Strong Navy Force Sent To Relief Of Red-Besieged City

By SPENCER MOOSA

CANTON (AP)—A Nationalist spokesman said tonight strong naval forces had been sent up the Min River to the relief of Communist-besieged Foochow.

The spokesman said the coastal city still was in Nationalist hands. Commercial radio contact with Foochow has been cut here for many hours.

This might indicate Communist troops have occupied the city. But there has been nothing here to confirm this. The city is about 450 miles northeast of Canton.

Meanwhile, a Nationalist army spokesman denied Red troops had driven into Kwantung Province. Canton, the Nationalist capital, is also the Kwantung provincial capital.

(There was no denial, however, of private reports Tuesday that the Nationalists were withdrawing from Nanshiung, 135 miles northeast of Canton and just inside Kwantung.)

The United States Consulate General in Canton is winding up its business and expects to be closed by Friday.

American missionaries are awaiting word from their home headquarters whether to evacuate the Communist-threatened capital.

Various consulates have notified their governments of the American action and are awaiting word whether to follow suit. Unless there is a last minute change in plans the British consulates will remain here and at Swatow.

Responsible Chinese sources said there has been no change in plans to make Chungking the new seat of the Nationalist government. Fully 10,000 persons, including government employees and their families, have gone to Chungking from here.

The Nationalist army spokesman said there was heavy fighting near Nankang, 195 miles northeast of Canton.

E.C.A. Chief Leaves Paris For Venice

PARIS (UP)—Paul G. Hoffman, Economic Co-operation Administrator, left from Paris today in a special plane for Venice.

He was accompanied by his wife, daughter-in-law, Mrs. Barbara Hoffman, Russell Dorr, E.C.A. mission chief to Turkey, Alilio Cattani, Italian delegate to the organization for European economic co-operation, and economic advisers. Italy will be the third country on Hoffman's European fact-finding tour. He already has visited Ireland and France.

Immediate Steps To Unify Europe Urged By Morrison

STRASBOURG (AP)—Herbert Morrison, Britain's deputy prime minister, told the assembly of the Council of Europe today he favors immediate steps toward unification of Europe. He added, however, that caution must be observed.

Morrison challenged the Conservatives, led here by Winston Churchill, to take their case to the British electorate if they think the government is moving too hesitantly.

"In whatever we do," Morrison said, "we must pay due regard to the interests of the individual member countries and, as far as Britain is concerned, to the ties which link us with the commonwealth of nations, and to the responsibilities we share with Belgium, France and the Netherlands for the welfare of peoples of other continents, notably the great continent of Africa."

"I do not say that some collective European authority may not in due course develop with specific powers to decide certain matters directly," Morrison said, adding, "new ideas do not frighten me—I just want to know with some precision what they are."

Morrison spoke on the second day of the assembly's most significant agenda item—changes needed in the political structure of Europe to bring about greater unity among the Council of Europe members.

Electronic Invention Fails Red 'Jamming'

LONDON (UP)—New and top-secret electronic devices have won for Britain a new phase in the radio propaganda war with Russia, informed sources said today.

British radio engineers who jammed Nazi broadcasts for almost five years have broken through Russian interference with English-language broadcasts and have literally "cleared" the air over portions of central Europe, it was disclosed.

Russia hurled scores of her own transmitters into the battle of the air waves several weeks ago to jam both BBC and Voice of America broadcasts beamed to Russia.

America and Britain retaliated with a counter-jamming offensive.

London newspapers today reported the BBC had found a completely new way to defeat Russian jamming. The process has been so successful, these reports said, that listeners in Finland are able to pick up the American and British broadcasts with virtually no interference.

Similar reports were received from other central European listening posts and from inside Russia itself.

The House committee approved the additional sum for the voice of America (which now is down for $750,000) after receiving testimony from Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, director of psychological warfare for the army.

Wedemeyer testified that American efforts—coupled with those of the BBC—to get programs into Russia appear to be causing the Soviets considerable injury in their total radio operation.

The men were crew members of the Canadian freighter Laurentian Hill, tied up in Avonmouth harbor for more than a month while undergoing repairs.

Fewer Harvesters Needed On Prairies

EDMONTON (UP)—Pessimistic crop estimates issued in Ottawa were pointed up here with an announcement that fewer eastern harvesters will be needed in Alberta this year.

Frederick Newcombe, head of the provincial government's district agriculturists, said 500 harvesters will be needed this year—350 less than last year.

Ottawa May Take Rent Control To Supreme Court

OTTAWA (UP)—Possibility that the validity of federal rent control legislation would be put to a Supreme Court test was foreseen in Ottawa today by informed sources.

Reliable quarters said that Ottawa would give the provinces another chance to take over the field of rentals control sometime before next March 31, when existing federal powers expire. If the provinces decline the offer, as they did when Finance Minister Douglas Abbott originally advanced it Oct. 12, 1948, then the federal government would hand the controversial matter to the Supreme Court for a ruling.

While awaiting the court's decision, the sources said, Ottawa would continue to administer present controls.

Should the court rule against the controls, as was thought likely by some observers, then the federal government would be relieved of responsibility in the matter as they were on the oleomargarine question last fall.

The political "hot potato" of rent controls would thus be tossed to the provinces and they would then have to decide individually whether to continue them or not.

Londoners Asked To Watch For Man With Bandaged Hands

LONDON (UP)—Scotland Yard today asked 8,000,000 Londoners to watch for "the man with the bandaged hands" who police think was cladded by a pretty secretarial school operator before he stabbed her to death.

Detectives led by Superintendent Harold Hawkyard said they believed a "very powerful man" murdered Dorothy Edith Wallis, 30, as she screamed for help in her London office.

Scotland Yard's "mobile crime laboratory" searched every inch of the office building where she was found murdered early Tuesday.

The main clue, they said, would be in the hands of the man who murdered her, indicating they may have found fragments of torn skin beneath her nails.

Vancouver Scratches Six Die In Crash Of Train, Auto

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP)—Six persons were killed Tuesday night in a collision of their car and the Union Pacific's Overland Limited at a railroad crossing here.

Trainmen identified the dead as Ascension Jimenez, Ogallala farmer, his wife, their daughter-in-law and three Jimenez children. Another daughter, Annie, 13, was taken to a hospital. Physicians expected her to live.

The automobile was struck broadside and hurled 90 feet. All except Jimenez were thrown from the car. Ogallala is in western Nebraska near the Colorado border.

Hindu National Language

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—India's national language is to be Hindi, it has been decided by the Indian National Congress. The decision ends a year's controversy on whether to use Hindi—spoken by nearly 80,000,000 persons in north and central India—or its variant Hindustani. Hindustani is understood in almost the whole of Pakistan, west, north central and east India.

Interned Czech Prelate Breaks Long Silence

PRAGUE (Reuters)—Archbishop Joseph Beran has broken a two-month silence to protest against his "internment" in his Prague palace by Czechoslovakia's Communist government, it was learned today.

Dr. Beran also protested against the presence of a government agent in his offices and against the seizure of the Archbishop's funds and estates without consultation.

Dr. Beran's protests were contained in a letter to the state prosecutor.

In this way Dr. Beran was able to overcome the ban on his issuing statements or communicating with his fellow clergy without permission from the Communist authorities.

The text of his letter became available from church sources here today.

Dr. Beran said that earlier letters of protest to the Ministry of Education (now administering Roman Catholic church affairs), the Ministry of the Interior, and the Czech government had not been answered.

"I have been interned in the Archbishop's palace since June 19," his letter said in part. "Visitors are not admitted. They are told that the Archbishop is forbidden visitors."

Details Disclosed By German Expert Who Fled Soviets

HAMBURG (UP)—A German rocket expert said today the Russians are building a network of V-2 rocket bomb bases pointed at Western Europe.

The expert, who asked that his name be withheld, has just reached Western Germany after three years of alleged forced service with the Russians, including a recent visit to the "Soviet Central Institute for V-Bomb Development" in Moscow.

U.S. intelligence sources in Frankfurt said they had received reports of secret Russian activities in eastern Germany, especially along the Baltic coast, but had no specific information on the installation of rocket launching sites.

The expert said he formerly worked as V-2 expert for the German Army in the Bleicherode works in Thuringia and was taken to Russia with other German technicians in 1946. He said he escaped when he was sent to eastern Germany last month for a brief vacation.

His vacation orders told him to report to Peenemuende, the former German V-weapon experiment station which, he said, the Russians are preparing to rebuild.

"I had opportunities to look into certain files which reported on strategic planning on V-2 bomb bases in eastern Germany," he said.

"They stated that a number of Russian commissions are already working on the necessary preparations to bring V-2 bomb bases into action on a few minutes' notice."

Principal Targets Listed

The completed bases, he said, are:

1. Between Neus Relitz and Penzlin, aimed at southern Sweden.
2. Between Anklam and Wolgast, aimed at southern Sweden.
3. South of Erfurt in Thuringia state, aimed at the Rhine River bridgeheads near Cologne, Düsseldorf and the Scheldt River estuary.
4. Near Guben, aimed at the northern part of Ruegen, a Baltic island just off the coast of the Soviet zone of Germany and a possible landing point for western power invaders.
5. East of Pilsen, Czechoslovakia, aimed at the Brenner Pass between Austria and Italy.

Three of the bases now under construction, he said, are within a 20-mile radius of Stettin, Poland, with firing orders covering the German Bay, the island of Sylt and the Dutch coast.

Three more are being built near Hradec Kralove, Czechoslovakia, to cover the Balkan countries and the Adriatic coast, he said.

According to this source, the Russians also are experimenting with mobile firing stations mounted on "FMS Trains" like those used by the Germans in World War II. He said these mobile stations were less effective because ballistic and other calculations were constantly changing.

He said reconstruction of the V-weapon station at Peenemuende, which was bombed out by the Allies, has already started. Reports reaching Hamburg from the island of Usedom, seat of the station, indicate Germans on the island have been ordered to leave.

East German Government Projected By Russians

BERLIN (UP)—Informed political quarters said today that the Russians are expected to set up an East German Communist government before Christmas.

Soviet plans were said to have been spurred by elections in Western Germany last Sunday, when more than 23,000,000 voters elected their first free parliament in 16 years.

If the Russians do establish a separate government, political quarters believed it would kill all hope for a united Germany in the immediate future.

They said the Russians want to keep a tight rein on the political leaders of Eastern Germany.

many to prevent them joining a pro-western democratic government for all Germany once the occupation forces have withdrawn.

Informants expected the Russians to sponsor state elections in Eastern Germany in October, with a formal government emerging in November or December.

As elsewhere in eastern Europe, it is expected parties will combine in a national front pledged to union of East and West Germany and collaboration with Russia. There probably will be no real political campaigning in the western sense.

Riots Mar Indonesians' Independence Celebration

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—Disorder today marked the fourth Independence Day celebration of the Indonesian Republic. Several casualties were reported in Batavia.

Thousands of persons streamed into the city and put on an impromptu demonstration in Kongspelen Square where in 1945 President Soekarno and Premier Mohamed Hatta had proclaimed Indonesia's independence.

Shouting "Merdeka" (freedom) demonstrators pushed their way into the Republican delegation headquarters building where a formal ceremony had been planned and took over the place.

Dutch authorities had banned all outdoor festivals for the occasion.

In spite of the Netherlands order banning the appearance of Indonesian flags, thousands wore the red and white colors of the republic.

In a one-hour speech, Soekarno said the condition for peace and security in Indonesia is the transfer of complete independence to the Indonesians. The people of Indonesia, he said, must unite come what may.

A crowd of about 100,000 gathered in and near the Batavia headquarters of the Republican delegation. It began to disperse four hours later.

Ambulances clanged through the streets with injured. So far no deaths have been reported.

Manitoba Polio Death

DARLINGTON, Man. (CP)—Morris Andrew, 24-year-old Darlington farmer, died in Modern Hospital Tuesday from poliomyelitis. He had been in hospital only three days.

Supreme Court May Test Rent Controls

Nationalists Concede Loss Of Big Port

HONGKONG (UP)—The Chinese Nationalist government today conceded the loss of Foochow, one of its last two big ports on China coast.

A Central News Agency dispatch from Formosa said a government spokesman announced that the Nationalist defenders had been ordered to withdraw to an undisclosed destination.

The fall of Foochow, midway between Shanghai and Hongkong, leaves Amoy, 320 miles northeast of Canton and 50 miles southwest of Foochow, the only major port remaining in Nationalist hands.

The Nationalist government announced it was moving up reinforcements in an attempt to stem the Communist push toward Canton from a point near the border of Kwangtung and Kiangsi provinces.

(An A.P. dispatch from Canton)

There was no denial, however, of private reports Tuesday that the Nationalists were withdrawing from Nahhsung, 305 miles northeast of Canton and just inside Kwangtung.

(The United States Consulate General in Canton is winding up its business and expects to be closed by Friday.)

Reclaimed From The Undertow

Result Could Put Issue Up To Provinces

OTTAWA (BUP)—Possibility that the validity of federal rent control legislation would be put to a Supreme Court test was foreseen in Ottawa today by informed sources.

Reliable quarters said that Ottawa would give the provinces another chance to take over the field of rentals control sometime before next March 31, when existing federal powers expire.

Mud, Rock Slide Delays Trains

FIELD, B.C. (CP)—A slide of rock and mud at Yoho, east of here, has delayed transcontinental service on the Canadian Pacific Railway, officials said today.

At its widest point, the slide covered an area of about 200 feet. No trains were in the area at the time. Westbound trains are being held at Calgary and eastbound trains here while tracks are being cleared.

It will take about 17 hours to clear the tracks, C.P.R. officials said. Schedules should be back to normal by Friday.

Calling For Tenders Soon On New 100-House Project

Tenders for Victoria's newest 100-house housing project will be called within the next day or two, according to D. MacNaughton, assistant regional supervisor for Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Vancouver.

Mr. MacNaughton wrote to City Hall today acknowledging receipt of a letter in which Victoria advised the Crown corporation City Council had approved signing of an agreement for construction of the houses.

"Although we cannot let the contract until we have received the signed agreement, we are going to tender in the next day or two on the assumption that the agreement will be received well ahead of the date on which tenders will close," Mr. MacNaughton wrote.

The corporation recently has let two other contracts for Department of National Defence Housing projects and announced letting of the third is expected shortly.

Contracts have been awarded for two 20-house projects, one at Canadian Services College, H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, and the other just outside H.M.C.S. Naden. The third contract will be for another 20-house project outside H.M.C. Dockyard. All will be for use by service personnel.

Action Demanded Of Stalin In Radio Jam, Lend-Lease

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alan Kirk, United States ambassador to Russia, asked Prime Minister Stalin to speed action on United States protests against jamming of the Voice of America radio broadcasts, State Secretary Dean Acheson disclosed today.

Kirk called on Stalin Monday night. Acheson told a press conference it actually was a courtesy visit and was limited almost entirely to an exchange of courtesies between the new American ambassador and the Russian leader.

However, he added, Kirk did mention to Stalin two points currently at issue in Soviet-American relations. These, Acheson said, are the Russian jamming of American radio broadcasts and the long-drawn-out negotiations on a final settlement for wartime lend-lease.

Asked what Stalin's reaction was, Acheson said the matters were referred to the Soviet Foreign Office.

His disclosure of Kirk's approaches to Stalin on the two issues came in response to reporters' inquiries and after he had read a statement accusing the Russians of having planned the "complex, costly jamming operation" for many months.

This interference with broadcasts from the west to the Russian people, Acheson said, "must be looked upon as a long-range plan of the U.S.S.R. for isolating the Russian people even more completely from access to truth and fact about the outside world." (See story, page 3.)

Capt. Harry Webster ordered the ship turned about and in the beam of searchlights the girl was sighted in the choppy water.

Red V-2 Rocket Bases Aimed At West Europe

HAMBURG (UP)—A German rocket expert said today the Russians are building a network of V-2 rocket bomb bases pointed at western Europe.

4. Near Guben, aimed at the northern part of Ruegen, a Baltic island just off the coast of the Soviet zone of Germany and a possible landing point for western power invaders.
5. East of Pilsen, Czechoslovakia, aimed at the Brenner Pass between Austria and Italy.

Another Murder Charge Preferred In Ontario Death

HAMILTON (CP)—"Irish Davey" Ambersley was remanded today to Aug. 29 on a charge of murder in connection with the Aug. 6 shooting at his suburban home of Richard Silfka, 23-year-old former resident of Vancouver and Brandon, Man.

Edward "Big Dempsey" Richards, 33-year-old beverage-room waiter and wrestling timekeeper, has already been charged with murder and manslaughter arising from the same death.

Silfka was shot to death following a wild fight during a drinking party. The former junior hockey player with a Regina team was shot through the heart.

Charles Bulmer and Vernon Parrington, both of Hamilton, were also wounded in the fight which police said involved about a dozen men.

Don't Abuse Freedom Western Germans Warned By Acheson

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson warned the Western Germans today against abusing the freedoms permitted them by the western occupation powers.

Acheson sounded the warning in a press conference statement on Sunday's elections in western Germany. He hailed the results as a "victory for moderation and common sense."

He noted there had been sharp criticism of the occupation powers during the election campaign. He indicated he wasn't worried about that but:

"Abuse of such freedoms may alienate western sympathies while failing to serve the best interests of the German people."

Jetliner Crash-Lands

Canada's first jetliner came to grief at Malton Airport yesterday when the landing gear jammed, forcing the pilot to belly-land the big craft. The Avro plane was being tested by pilots Jimmy Orrell of Manchester, Eng., and Don Rogers of Toronto when it was discovered the landing gear was jammed and wouldn't lower. The two pilots at first thought they would have to land the plane in Lake Ontario, but after circling the airfield for two hours, brought the plane in on its belly. Damage was slight.—(CP Photo)

New Patricia Bay Highway May Be Started This Year

There is a possibility work may be started this year on the high-speed highway to Patricia Bay, it was learned today from Works Minister E. C. Carson, who said it depended on availability of engineers.

Survey parties still were mapping out the new road, he advised, and a start of actual construction would be made when qualified engineers were available.

"We could put 40 more engineers to work tomorrow if we could find them," Mr. Carson stated.

Department engineers were being kept busy with the government's large B.C.-wide highway building program and it could not be stated yet when work on the Pat Bay road could be commenced.

"But," the minister said, "something might come up whereby we will be able to make a start on the airport road this year. We don't know now."

Building of the road has been under discussion three years. It was talked about first when efforts were made to construct an airfield at Gordon Head.

The federal government agreed to help in the construction of a better highway to the Patricia Bay airport rather than put money into the proposed Gordon Head airport.

It was agreed finally that the provincial and federal governments would share equally the cost of building a new highway to Pat Bay.

East German Government Projected By Russians

Closer Relations With Britain Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson today said he favors a closer economic relationship with Britain. He added, however, an economic union between the two countries is not under consideration at the present.

He made this comment at a press conference when asked to comment on published reports that such an economic merger was being considered as a means of saving Britain's dollar shortage.

Further Talks On Threatened Strike In Okanagan Due

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Another attempt will be made tomorrow to settle the dispute between Okanagan fruit packing companies and the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers' unions dispute threatening to a paralyzing strike to the rich interior B.C. area.

Representatives of the fruit industry negotiating committee and of the unions are scheduled to meet with Labor Relations Board officials in Vancouver.

The industry committee meets in Kelowna today to arrange for the delegation, and to discuss the situation.

A government supervised strike vote by employees of 28 Okanagan packing houses resulted in a 79-per cent vote in favor of strike action. The vote followed the decision of the packers to reject a union shop clause in a recommendation handed down by a conciliation board.

Murder, Suicide Ruled By Police

SASKATOON (CP)—An inquest into the death Monday night of Jeremiah Janzen, 53, who shot himself after blasting his 47-year-old wife, Rose, with a sawed-off shotgun, was immediately adjourned after opening hear Tuesday night. Police termed the double killing murder and suicide.

Also shot by Janzen was Edna Lachuk, 14. Hospital authorities reported her condition improving and expected she would soon be well enough for questioning by police.

The young girl was an eye-witness of the shooting. Her wounds were not considered serious.

Janzen was estranged from his wife and had only recently come to Saskatoon to act as housekeeper at a rooming house, where the shooting occurred. Edna Lachuk is the daughter of the proprietor of the rooming house.

After formal identification of the bodies by the coroner's jury the inquiry was adjourned indefinitely.

OLD STORE STOVE
WELL, WELL, WELL! This so-called march of progress is threatening to sweep away another of the traditional features of rural Canadian life—one, this time, that will come as a blow to the old-time party politicians.

It is the pot-bellied stove of the country store, once a meeting place of the oldtimers for miles around, the centre of the Saturday forum. Now that new-fangled notion known as television has invaded its once sacrosanct preserves and threatens to consign it to the junk heap.

First casualty was at Cedar Springs, Ont., where James Thomas ran a little country store for many years, hard by the blacksmith shop.

CAME FOR MILES

THERE, AS IN RURAL communities all across Canada, men used to walk or drive miles to the smithy and the store and were only too glad to linger around the old stove, especially in the winter when its red-hot sides were comforting.

Sitting on cheese and cracker-barrels, the smoke from their pipes no doubt mingling with the smoke from the stove, they exchanged friendly gossip about neighborhood happenings and personalities, discussed Farmer Giles' crops, Farmer Brown's rheumatics and Farmer Buggin's calf casualties with equal interest.

And from that vantage point they managed to settle everybody's problems by word of mouth—except, perhaps, their own!

RURAL HUSTINGS

WHEN ELECTION time came around, candidates probably had more to fear—or hope for—from the deliberations around the old stove than they did from any formal appearance on the hustings.

It was then that cracker-barrel politics reached its peak. The candidate and his party platform were discussed and pulled to pieces, held up to ridicule or praised, as the case might be—to the accompaniment of argument which sometimes grew as heated as the sides of the old wood-burning stove.

No verbal punches were pulled in those forums, as each side waxed warmer in support or derision of his political favorite—the argument punctuated, perhaps, by well-aimed shafts of plug-juice in the direction of the pot-bellied heater.

GONE, ALAS!

BUT ALL THAT is past at Cedar Springs. When Thomas, the store-keeper, sold out to a couple from Windsor, Ont., it marked the end of an era which, while it may please the up-and-coming younger folks, must have occasioned some heart-burnings to the old-timers.

For the newcomers installed a juke-box and comfortable chairs to replace the cracker-barrels. Now they have followed those innovations up by installing a television set—the first of its kind in the village.

And, it is said, everyone has a standing invitation to drop into the store—and practically everyone within radius of many miles is accepting it.

ANOTHER TRADITION DIES

WHAT IS MORE, there is said to be just as much excitement when a ball game is shown on the screen as there used to be when the old stove came apart, deluging everybody with clouds of soot and smoke in days of old.

But, to me, this substitution of a juke-box and television for the old pot-bellied stove is symptomatic of the softening of the once-spartan pattern of rural living, something which, while it no doubt has its advantages, yet gives rise to a wistful feeling of regret over the loss of another Canadian tradition.

RUGGED INDIVIDUALISTS

FOR THOSE rugged individualists who once walked miles in all weathers just to sit around the old stove and argue on matters of moment—whether of community or national interest—were of the stuff which built this Canada of ours from the grassroots up.

Whatever the critics of cracker-barrel politics may say, those rural forums at least stimulated individual thinking and discriminating listening, whereas the juke-box and the television seem scarcely conducive to either.

Welfare Department Killed By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman's attempt to create a new department of welfare by executive order was killed Tuesday night by the Senate.

Despite repeated appeals by Mr. Truman for favorable action, the senators voted 60-32 for a resolution disapproving the proposal. That sunk it for this session.

The plan would have consolidated the government's welfare, education and public-health activities into one department, headed by a cabinet officer. Critics of the plan contended it would be a step toward national health insurance.

Says Materialism Ruins Christianity

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Senator Howard McGrath, National Democratic Chairman, asserted Tuesday night the time had come for Catholics to rise up as a "church militant" in a battle for Christianity and democracy.

"Only the bold offensive wins," the Rhode Island senator said in a speech delivered at a Knights of Columbus convention. He referred to democracy's troubles throughout the world, and warned, "in Europe and Asia the old barbarities are reappearing with a new scientific vengeance."

But the United States has a problem, too, he continued. McGrath called it "grass materialism, which would elevate and glorify sense and sensuality above spirit and conscience. Piety and patriotism alike demand a re-minting of the coinage of our Christian civilization," he said.

Brothers Cross Atlantic Safely

DARTMOUTH, Devon (Reuter)—Stanley and Colin Smith, brothers who are sailing a 25-foot, home-made yacht to Dartmouth, Devon, from Dartmouth, N.S., were reported to day to be near their destination after more than a month at sea.

They were sighted off the Scilly Islands, Cornwall.

The brothers built their craft with their postwar gratuities from the British Army.

World Conditions Improving, Says Lie

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the United Nations, returned Tuesday from his European vacation with a feeling that world conditions are improving.

"I feel much better about world conditions this summer than I did last summer," he said in a statement.

"I believe more than ever the United Nations is doing an increasingly important job for peace. And I also believe we have the increasing support of the people in that task."

Lie was away six weeks. He spent most of this time in Scandinavian countries.

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 300 angry women, some with baby carriages, blockaded a Brooklyn street Tuesday two hours after a 10-year-old boy was killed by a car. They snarled traffic for 20 minutes in a demand for a traffic light at the intersection where the fatal accident occurred.

Winnipeg Transport Fare Boost Looms

WINNIPEG (CP)—Streetcar and autobus riders in Winnipeg face the apparent prospect of a boost in fares. W. H. Carter, president of the Winnipeg Electric Company, said the company will seek immediately new revenue sources so it can give its 1,700 employees the 5 per cent wage boost recommended by a conciliation board. Streetcar and bus riders now buy two tickets for 15 cents while monthly passes also can be purchased.

Possible Record For Pacific Flight

VANCOUVER (CP)—A possible trans-Pacific record for passenger aircraft was set Tuesday night when Canadian Pacific Air Lines' "Empress of Sydney" touched down at the international airport here at 7:45 p.m. 29 hours and 55 minutes flying time out of Hongkong.

The aircraft, which included among its 32 passengers 29 Chinese, from the embattled Orient, flew directly from Shenyang, in the Aleutians, to Vancouver, nearly 2,400 miles in just over 30 hours.

Previous flights from China via the great circle route have included a stop at Anchorage, Alaska. By eliminating that extra leg of the trip the aircraft clipped more than six hours off the normal flying time.

There's color and laughter, tears and pathos, music and dancing in Jerome Kern's musical hit, "Roberta." See it tonight at the Arena. Tickets at the doors after 7 p.m.

Riots Mar Indonesians' Independence Celebration

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—Disorder today marked the fourth Independence Day celebration of the Indonesian Republic. Several casualties were reported in Batavia.

Thousands of persons streamed into the city and put on an impromptu demonstration in Koningplein Square, where in 1945 President Soekarno and Premier Mohamad Hatta had proclaimed Indonesia's independence.

Shouting "Merdeka" (freedom) demonstrators pushed their way into the Republican delegation headquarters building where a formal ceremony had been planned and took over the place. Dutch authorities had banned all outdoor festivals for the occasion.

In spite of the Netherlands order banning the appearance of Indonesian flags, thousands wore the red and white colors of the republic.

In a one-hour speech, Soekarno said the condition for peace and security in Indonesia is the transfer of complete independence to the Indonesians. The people of Indonesia, he said, must unite come what may.

A crowd of about 100,000 gathered in and near the Batavia headquarters of the Republican delegation. It began to disperse four hours later.

Ambulances clanged through the streets with injured. So far no deaths have been reported.

Leslie D. Foxgord was ordered by Magistrate A. I. Thomas in city police court today to get the junk cleared off the lot next to his 1144 Queens home address in one week "or be prepared to suffer the consequences in court."

Mr. Foxgord has been charged with unlawfully having a junk yard of this property, contrary to the city building by-law.

The fire at its height was visible for 20 miles. The plant, largest in Canada, had a yearly output of 45,000,000 bricks, sufficient to build 6,000 homes. Electronic Invention Foils Red 'Jamming'

LONDON (UP)—New and top-secret electronic devices have won for Britain a new phase in the radio propaganda war with Russia, informed sources said today.

British radio engineers who jammed Nazi broadcasts for almost five years have broken through Russian interference with English-language broadcasts the air over portions of central Europe, it was disclosed.

Russia hurled scores of her own transmitters into the battle of the air waves several weeks ago to jam both BBC and Voice of America broadcasts beamed to Russia.

America and Britain retaliated with a counter-jamming offensive.

London newspapers today reported the BBC had found a completely new way to defeat Russian jamming. The process has been so successful, these reports said, that listeners in Finland are able to pick up the American and British broadcasts with virtually no interference.

Similar reports were received from other central European listening posts and from inside Russia itself.

U.S. To Set Up Propaganda

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP).—The United States state department is planning to throw heavy new reinforcements into the radio war with Russia if Congress will provide the money.

The appropriations committee of the House of Representatives took the first step Tuesday by recommending an appropriation of $11,500,000. This still is subject to action by the House itself and the Senate.

The House committee approved the additional sum for the Voice of America (which now is down for $7,500,800) after receiving testimony from Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, director of psychological warfare for the army.

Wedemeyer testified that American efforts—coupled with those of the BBC—to get programs into Russia appear to be causing the Soviets considerable injury in their total radio operation.

Sale Of Rings Indicate Male Thinks Of Marriage In Summer

If the sale of engagement rings give any indication when young people think of marriage, then it is during the summer months, not spring, that suitors pledge their troth.

Jewelers report that with the exception of December, July and August are the peak months for the sale of engagement rings.

The majority of suitors are buying rings ranging in price between $100 and $150, they said. Sale of more expensive rings has increased since the luxury tax was removed by the federal government.

It was pointed out that prior to the removal of the tax, a person paid $75 in tax on a $300 ring. This was enough to cool the ardor of any suitor.

White yellow gold rings were still being sold in great numbers, sales clerks said, while gold rings were increasing in popularity because of their better wearing qualities.

They also said there was an increasing demand for men's wedding rings. Prior to the war few male wedding rings were sold in Victoria.

Sales clerks claimed the demand for male wedding rings began during the war. Women set the fashion by buying them for their husbands, probably as a gentle reminder that they were married, they said.

Men preferred plain gold rings, while in the United States more elaborate types of bands were popular with the male.

"The Canadian male is still conservative in his taste," said one clerk. "But we have noticed there is a tendency to wear something more elaborate on his fingers."

Six Die In Crash Of Train, Auto

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP)—Six persons were killed Tuesday night in a collision of their car and the Union Pacific's Overland Limited at a railroad crossing here.

Trainmen identified the dead as Ascension Jimenez, Ogallala farmer; his wife, their daughter-in-law and three Jimenez children. Another daughter, Annie, 13, was taken to a hospital. Physicians expected her to live.

The automobile was struck broadside and hurled 90 feet. All except Jimenez were thrown from the car. Ogallala is in western Nebraska, near the Colorado border.

Britain Seeks Atomic Material In Colonies

LONDON (BUP)—Britain was making a more determined bid to get into the rush for uranium by Ciling Colonial Empire members how to find the mineral and assuring them a market at guaranteed prices.

This course of action was mapped out by the United Kingdom atomic energy commission. The commission said it was prepared to finance mining and transport of radio-active minerals to Britain, and sent notice to that effect to all Colonial governments.

The governments were being helped in the search by hints on how to find minerals such as uranium and thorium, and in addition, geologists stood on call with instruments to go to the territories if wanted.

The race for uranium sources sharpened as the United States and Canada, Britain's closest atomic research rivals, held monopoly over the world's richest known deposits.

NOT YET PRACTICABLE

ALTHOUGH MANY GOOD REASONS may be advanced in favor of the creation of a Pacific alliance along the same lines as the now operating Atlantic Pact, the instability of conditions in the eastern sphere provides a strong argument against early accomplishment of such a project. This, according to a British United Press item from Ottawa, is the view held by Canadian External Affairs authorities, and it appears to be shared in Washington.

The need for a defensive bulwark against Communist encroachment is no less evident in the Pacific theatre than in the Atlantic. In fact, at the moment, it is more so, for while the European shore of the Atlantic is merely under the threat of Communist aggression, the Asiatic border of the Pacific is actually undergoing military assault at a number of points. A further consideration is that in Asia the Communist policy involves the clever use of nationalist movements and "anti-colonial" sentiment to augment its popular appeal. Unless the difference is made clear to the native populations, the West cannot actively oppose Communism in Asia without being charged with seeking to restore the old colonialism. These facts must crystallize before effective action may be taken—a development which has not yet occurred in the boiling cauldrons of China, Indo-China, Siam, Burma, Indonesia and other similar states.

The Canadian attitude—that there is no existing "Pacific community" corresponding to the common interests of Atlantic nations which made the Pact possible—is, unfortunately, well founded. The Australian proposal for a Pacific alliance based on the Atlantic structure is felt to be impractical. The Chiang Kai-shek project for an anti-Communist grouping led by himself, President Quirino of the Philippines and President Syngman Rhee of Southern Korea presents even greater problems of practical application. Many of the governments on the western side of the Pacific are in far too unstable a state to warrant either Canada or the United States entering with them upon a binding obligation which could conceivably lead to war. The Pacific situation must become much clearer before an effective anti-Communist pact can be written.

A DISTINGUISHED VICTIM

THIS CONTINENT'S MOST LETHAL peacetime weapon, the speeding automobile, has taken the life of Margaret Mitchell, whose best-seller "Gone With the Wind" gave flesh-and-blood texture to a stirring record of her country's history. Her reportedly quiet way of life was no defence against the violence which claimed her—a violence as heedless and uncalculated for as the cruellest chapters of her book.

What happened to Margaret Mitchell happens, in modified form, to someone every day on this continent. A driver's carelessness snuffs out the life of some individual, well-known or obscure. And the heartache which accompanies the loss is equally as poignant.

It is somewhat shocking to read that the young man in charge of the automobile which struck the novelist had a record of 23 previous traffic violation convictions. It is natural to wonder why such an individual was allowed to continue operation of an automobile. That, in turn, raises a question as to the right of any negligent motorist to continue to enjoy the privilege of driving. Should the authorities renew licenses, after suspensions, until two dozen violations are finally compounded into one fatality?

TRADE UNION BOSSES

ALTHOUGH IT IS NONE OF CANADA'S business, most Canadians wonder how it is that two or three prominent and highly-paid trade union officials in the United States are able to tell some 145,000,000 citizens of the great Republic to the south of the 49th parallel what they should do, when they should do it, and how they should do it. We mention this matter because, as is well known, this country's economy is so closely integrated with that of our neighbor that anything which disturbs the fiscal equilibrium of one nation is bound to have a definite effect on both of them.

When Mr. Harry Bridges—Australia's trade union export to the United States—decries that longshoremen on the Pacific or the Atlantic coasts shall stop loading ships or do such other things as will cripple maritime activities of the North American continent, or when Mr. John L. Lewis takes it into his head to tell his coal miners to down tools while he gets them a new contract for more money and less work, or when Mr. Walter Reuther feels it incumbent upon him to order the automobile workers to cease their labors until he has negotiated a new wage scale—when these three men have done their stint it would seem to be reasonable for the unorganized workers to ask themselves a few searching questions.

As already set forth, what the trade union leaders in the United States do is their business; but it is not necessary to emphasize the fact that because of international control—and this control embraces many union organizations directly affecting Canadian business under various heads—the wage earners of this country are directly affected by what takes place when men like Bridges, Lewis, and Reuther employ their strangely-potent prerogatives. The case of C.I.O. longshoremen's executive Harry Bridges is unique. Again, it is not for us to say whether the late President Roosevelt erred when he did not authorize the removal from this continent of this Australian trouble-maker. The controversy revolved around Bridges' political philosophy—whether he was or was not once a Communist.

Bridges always has contended that he was never, is not, and will not in the future become a Communist. John L. Lewis is no Communist. Walter Reuther by no stretch of the imagination jumps through the hoop when the men of the Politburo in Moscow crack the whip. Well and good; but what the average worker wants to know in this country—and in the United States—is who is going to control the economy of the two most influential nations of the Western Hemisphere. This is the point, or so it would seem to us, which merits consideration—and needs clarification.

YOUNG GENEROSITY

WHAT IS WRONG WITH THE younger generation? More things than a parent can count. But the citizens of tomorrow are not lacking in redeeming features. Take, for instance, the not-quite-teen-agers who this week staged their own bazaar to raise funds for the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

The four young students of Sir James Douglas School busied themselves in their neighborhood, collected items for various counters, begged flowers from neighbors, and cooked, or had cooked for them, a stall of cakes and cookies. In a business-like manner they went about making their own decorations, sold tickets to their function and then held the miniature garden party. By their efforts they raised $36 for their less fortunate fellows at the Mill Bay curative establishment. And it is safe to bet that they thoroughly enjoyed carrying out the activities and arrangements they had planned.

The Solarium will doubtless record its appreciation for the donation it will receive. And, for our own part, we would like to thank the very young ladies for this sample of well-applied effort and generosity. It helps to brighten days that only too frequently breed pessimism.

KEEP IT CLEAN

CURRENT COMPLAINTS ABOUT THE littered condition of Saxe Point Park in Esquimalt could well be duplicated by many a visitor to natural beauty spots which have been defiled by picnickers, campers and other transients. For those who are naturally slovenly, and who are as untidy in their own homes as they are in public places, there probably is little hope. They will continue to be a burden on the better trained citizens who must pick up after them. For those persons, however, who normally demand pleasant and sanitary surroundings where their own property is concerned, but who forget all such precepts when they make temporary use of public grounds, a word of warning and appeal may not go unheeded.

These people who move off on a picnic place, leaving an unsightly mess of papers, boxes and discarded food, have made a poor return for the pleasure they have enjoyed. The party following them will have little for which to thank them—and will be inclined to leave an even worse situation than they found. Thoughtlessness and slovenliness are thus compounded. The "beauty spot" soon becomes unfit for use. The good citizen will maintain self-respect by removing or burning all his own litter. He will earn public gratitude by doing a similar job on the "trade marks" left by his less educated predecessors.

LIGHTER FUTURE?

THE SUGGESTION IN A WIDELY-read American magazine that a substance has been discovered that will change black skin to white could conceivably herald a tremendous sociological upheaval in countries where the "color question" is a pressing national problem. In the United States, for instance, the possibilities of such an agent being made available could have repercussions of major proportions. It is known that many hundreds, perhaps thousands, of negroes in the neighboring republic have "passed"—in other words, renounced their negro contacts and by virtue of the natural whiteness of their skins entered upon a more advantageous life as a member of the white race.

That such a practice could become possible for tens of thousands of negroes would present a difficult situation for those white-skinned critics who claim deficiencies in negro blood, character or ability which are not recognized by any school of scientific thought. The "color problem" would have been solved—to the disadvantage of those who depend solely on the paleness of their epidermis to assert their personal superiority.

A news report informs us that Soviet motorists are looking forward to a new 100-mile-an-hour mass-produced sports car. If sufficient of them are manufactured, and if the North American vice of slaughter on the highway is amplified a little, that may prove one means of eliminating Communism.

Full Atomic Partners

By WILLIAM L. LAURENCE

Reprinted by special permission of
The Saturday Evening Post

Editor's Note: William L. Laurence, distinguished writer on scientific subjects, does most of his work for The New York Times. He has, however, written several articles for the Post. The Atom Gives Up (September, 1940) was a prophecy of things to come. Last year Mr. Laurence dealt with the question, How Soon Will Russia Have the A-Bomb?

THE REACTION in Congress to reports that Britain is asking to share in our atomic secrets has brought to light a lack of awareness of certain fundamental facts, knowledge of which is essential if we are to formulate a sound future policy regarding our atomic weapons. Such a policy becomes all the more important in view of the fact that, in the ratification of the Senate of the North Atlantic Security Pact, we have agreed that an armed attack against any of the 12 signatories shall be considered an attack against them all, binding each to come to the assistance of the party, or parties, so attacked. . . . Since the main objective of the treaty is to act as a deterrent to any would-be aggressor, and since it is now generally agreed that our possession of the A-bomb has so far served as the most potent single deterrent against aggression, it becomes obvious that the pact and the A-bomb must complement each other as the two principal pillars of world peace, and that we would be ignoring the realities if we failed to recognize that the changed world situation also requires a reevaluation of our atomic policy, or lack of policy.

OUR JUST PRIDE in the exclusive possession of the world's most powerful weapon should not blind us to certain basic facts. Very few seem to take note of the unalterable fact of nature that uranium is the one and only element that yields fissionable material. . . . Now it so happens that we are a have-not nation when it comes to uranium, and that the two richest uranium deposits in the world are located in the British Dominion of Canada and in the Belgian Congo, where the mines are partly owned by British nationals. And though it is unthinkable that Britain, Belgium or Canada would ever cut us off from our uranium supply, the fact nevertheless remains that without their sharing with us in this vital raw material, our entire atomic project would have to be seriously curtailed, if not crippled altogether. . . .

THE RUMORS following the Blair House conference had it that Britain was asking us for the secret of the A-bomb because she wished to enter on the manufacture of atomic bombs of her own. Such rumors are contrary to certain historic, geographic and strategic facts. It is a fact, for example, that the British scientists were way out in front of us on atomic research in 1940 and 1941, and that it was not until they placed all their knowledge at our disposal, following an agreement between President Roosevelt and then Prime Minister Winston Churchill, that we reached the momentous decision, on the day before Pearl Harbor, to go all out on the atomic-bomb project.

As a result of the Roosevelt-Churchill agreement, a mission composed of many of Britain's top scientists, headed by Nobel Laureate Sir James Chadwick, whose discovery of the neutron made the atomic bomb possible, came to the United States and worked side by side with our scientists.

SIR JAMES, Prof. William G. Penney and other noted British men of science were part of the inner circle that assembled the bomb. It is, therefore, extremely unlikely that they would be asking at this late stage to share in the "secrets." . . . It can be assumed that the British scientists, among the most brilliant in the world, have hit upon fruitful ideas of their own as to possible improvements on the war-time models. . . . In which case it would be decidedly to our advantage to trade ideas with them.

It also happens to be an unalterable fact of nature that the production of both types of fissionable material (U-235 and plutonium) requires plants of enormous size, costing in the neighborhood of half a billion dollars each. It was the prohibitive cost of the plants and their vulnerability to enemy attack that prompted Mr. Churchill to shift the British atomic project, at that time much further advanced than our own, to the American continent.

SINCE THE FACTORS of high cost and vulnerability to aerial attack are at least as important today as they were in 1941, it is inconceivable that any British Government would even consider the building of mammoth atomic-bomb plants either on their own soil or in Canada.

What, then, does Britain want from us? Obviously they want the maximum possible assurance of security for themselves that only the deterrent potentialities of the atomic bomb could give them. It would, therefore, not be unreasonable on their part to ask for a stock of atomic bombs to keep in readiness for quick retaliation in case of an attack, and, better still, to serve as the most effective deterrent against any such attack. . . . Maybe the answer lies in a compromise, whereby we would agree to send a stock of our bombs to Britain, where they would remain under the control of American personnel, military and civilian, who would retain control of the bomb, with definite instructions on how and when to use it in an emergency.

Pioneers In Radioactivity

By J. ERNEST CHARLES

THE fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of radium by Pierre and Marie Curie in the shed they used as a laboratory will be celebrated in the next few months. We may be certain this celebration will take place in a worthy manner, as a member of the National Assembly asked that it should.

MOST CELEBRATED

Radium was privileged to become straightaway the most celebrated of radio-active bodies. It has cast an imperishable glory on the name of Curie.

But even if radium had not been attached to the name of Pierre and Marie Curie, Pierre Curie, so reserved and modest, would stand out as the type and model of the scientist.

Pierre Curie devoted himself exclusively and totally to science. It was an instinct with him, a vocation, a genius, he was moved by an irresistible inner force. He could not be anything else but a scientist, a great scientist; nothing could disturb him from his scientific thinking and work. Alas, he died prematurely, tragically. Absorbed by his ceaseless meditations he let himself be run over, in a crowded street, by a lorry. So Pierre Curie died a victim of his tyrannical ideal, of his lofty and noble passion.

At the time of the discovery of radium he was 32 years old, a shy and modest man already illustrious.

He was tall. His rather pale face, framed by the unassuming beard of the period, gave, above all, the impression of an imperious, unalterable gentleman. Amidst that deep and exquisite gentleness you discovered that Pierre Curie was tirelessly thoughtful, with an unforced but intense gravity, a sort of majestic serenity.

FRUITFUL LABOR

Amidst that concentration of himself, which was not even tinged with the legitimate pride of an exceptional being, he progressed sanely, surely, towards the conclusions he foresaw.

A fruitful labor. At 35 Pierre Curie had reached essential results concerning the physics of crystals, and with the collaboration of his brother, Jacques, had discovered the phenomenon of piezo-electricity. It was suggested that he should be given the Legion of Honor. He declined without ostentation, but firmly. He needed no decoration, he said. What he wanted was a laboratory, a real laboratory. Now Pierre Curie had married in 1895 a young woman student of 28, Marie Sklotowska. She held a number of diplomas and was reading for the doctorate of science. Pierre Curie persuaded her to direct her research to the study of the radio activity which had attracted the attention, largely guesswork, of Becquerel, which was spoken of with fervent curiosity, but remained very mysterious.

The task was carried out in the memorable disused shed of the school of physics and chemistry. Soon Marie Curie had an inkling that there existed an unknown body more radio active than uranium.

TRIUMPHANT ENTRY

Pierre joined Marie and together they set out on another line of research towards the discovery of that unknown body. In 1898 radium made its bow to the scientific world, a triumphant entry indeed, and Marie Curie, who presented it in the Revue Generale des Sciences, created the term "radioactivity" which met at once the most flattering reception. The vocabulary was enriched at the same time as physics.

Marie Curie's career is well known. What would not have been the career of Pierre Curie if fate had not outrageously sacrificed him?

Changing Pattern Of Markets

By BRUCE BLOSSAT from New York

THE BRITISH dollar dilemma woke us up to the fact that deep-seated shifts in the world trade pattern lay behind the economic problems plaguing the world. One of the most significant changes taking place is a growing self-sufficiency for the United States in certain fields where it was formerly dependent on foreign supply sources.

The U.S. is attaining that greater economic independence through expanded use of synthetic and other substitute products. In several cases, war's interruption of normal overseas trade lines spurred development of domestic alternatives.

Some examples: Chemical detergents are cutting steadily into the market for regular soaps, with resulting damage to the demand for such South Pacific products as copra and palm oil, prime ingredients in ordinary soap.

The huge growth of American nylon production has all but wiped out the market for Japanese silk. This has been a grave handicap to Japan's postwar recovery.

Synthetic rubber production, developed during the war when East Indian sources of natural rubber were seized by the Japs, has stayed in the picture after the war. It is an increasing threat to the future American demand for the natural product.

OIL EXPERIMENTS

While the United States is still importing oil heavily from the Near East, Venezuela and other points, the nation has under way some costly experiments in the conversion of coal and gas into liquid petroleum. Should these experiments pan out and permit commercial-scale output of synthetic fuels, the time would come inevitably when the United States would pretty well forget about foreign oil sources—except perhaps the promising new fields in neighboring Canada.

America already makes more of what it needs than most countries. And now its ingenuity, driven faster by the war, is spreading self-sufficiency to still more fields.

On the other hand, foreign nations, their resources badly depleted by the war, need more desperately than ever to sell their products in American markets. Unless they do, they can't get the dollars they require to buy the goods they want.

TRADE SHIFTS

In other words, it is this problem of the American advance that the Marshall Plan seeks to solve. It is clear this program will provide no permanent solution unless it somehow attacks the basic maladjustments growing out of such trade shifts as we have here outlined.

Non-Partisan

Financial Post

Whether or not putting our dollar at par with the American in July, 1946, was a wise decision will long be argued, to some extent even in informed circles.

But one thing is certain: Parity may not always, or even for much longer, be in the best interests of Canadians as a whole.

And no decision on this delicate matter will be improved by partisan politics. It will be tragic and harmful to us all if a revaluation move is postponed because action may seem to be capitulation to political opponents.

This is an extremely delicate problem in judgment, knowledge and timing. All those with concern for the national interest will hope this subject will be spared the attentions of the uninformed and the purely partisan.

This column yesterday expressed the view that the outcome of the parliamentary elections for a new government in western Germany constitutes a rebirth of that country—a beginning of its revival as a power.

If we accept that as a valid premise it opens up startling possibilities. Foremost is the strong probability that we shall see development of a fierce rivalry between Germany and Britain for leadership of western Europe. Britain already seems to be taking note of this likelihood. For example, the London Daily Express, after referring to charges of German abuse of the allied occupation powers, says bluntly: "Before it is too late the British should get tough with the Germans, who have not given up the hope of working our humiliation and ruin."

The Daily Mail says: "German nationalism still lives and the influence of the Nazis is still great. The western allies must be more careful than ever to keep a watchful eye on future trends. "Mr. Churchill's raising the question of German admission to the Council of Europe is of great importance. The allies must keep Germany harmless, but she should be inside the western union because, if allowed to stand alone, she might either enter the Russian sphere or make a third attempt to dominate her neighbors."

RAPID RECOVERY

Already Germany, which before the war was the economic keystone of central Europe, is making remarkable strides toward recovery. It was a great industrial country and bids fair to be one again in due course.

Thus the prospective struggle will lie between two industrial powers. Here the similarity stops, for the things that are the contest will be in effect between a socialist state and a capitalist state.

The new Germany stands politically for "free enterprise," whereas Britain is in the midst of her "make or break" experiment in socialist government. Of course, both regimes might change in new elections, but that's the present situation.

So those who are trying to figure out which is better—socialism or capitalism—will have a concrete demonstration for guidance. It probably won't settle the argument, but it will be illuminating.

There are those who point to Britain's present economic crisis as a mark of socialist failure. However, as I see it there is little justification for such an estimate.

John Bull's difficulties are the result of the strain of two world wars and not of any one political creed. The socialists inherited the crisis.

OVERHAUL NECESSARY

ISRAEL'S EXAMPLE

Toronto Star
In addition to accepting Arab displaced persons as part of the peace settlement, Israel also has offered to help carry out a plan for general resettlement throughout the Middle East. She is prepared to provide scientific knowledge and experts in agriculture and irrigation to help these refugees resume normal living. Such unanimity makes a valuable contribution to international goodwill.

STREET SCENE

Hamilton Spectator
A pedestrian walking north on Yonge Street in Toronto saw a southbound street car come to an unlooked-for stop. The motor-man got out, crawled half under the front of his car and then in a moment or two backed out with his hands cupped together.

Proceeding to the west sidewalk of the street, the motor-man climbed a grassy bank and went half way across a lawn to a clump of shrubs where he gently deposited his precious freight. The object of the motor-man's solicitude was a fledgling robin still in the awkward stage and none too certain of itself on timid wings and toothpick legs.

That's all there was to it. Just a fleeting curbside episode in a city's pulsing life. Yet it sort of gives one a lift of the heart. For simple nobility is a rare ingredient in this frantic world. He's a good one, this motor-man, and no mistake about that. Be sure of it, this shining deed of his will stand to his credit on the long scroll that tabs us all.

6-4 Vote Defeats Proposal That City Make Own Repairs To Dallas Seawall

By a six to four vote, City Council Tuesday afternoon defeated a motion by Ald. J. D. Hunter that city workmen do repair work to the Dallas Road seawall at an estimated cost of $37,000. Instead, a $52,000 contract was awarded to G. H. Wheaton, local contractor.

Voting for the motion were: Ald. Hunter, Ald. C. F. Banfield, Ald. John Baxter and Ald. M. A. Kent. Voting against were: Ald. Waldo Skillings, Ald. Margaret D. Christie, Ald. F. G. Mulliner, Ald. D. D. McTavish, Ald. H. M. Diggon and Acting Mayor Ed. Williams.

Ald. Hunter's motion created a storm of argument in the council. Those in favor of the motion pointed to the estimate by city engineer Cyril Jones that city workmen could do the job for $37,000.

Ald. Skillings objected, saying the city was not in the contracting business and that he felt the city engineer's department had quite enough work to do. He said he believed the job should be let on contract on a firm price and expressed doubt that the city, with day labor, could keep within the $37,000 estimate.

In answer to Ald. Mulliner who asked if the city had men and time available for the work, Mr. Jones, the city engineer, said it had and that the seawall repair work would not cause other work to fall behind.

"My belief is that the city can do the work much cheaper than a contractor and on that basis I make my recommendation," Mr. Jones said.

He pointed out that about two-thirds of the work would be done on a sub-contract basis, such as pile driving and cofferdam work.

Ald. Baxter claimed the job was not a contracting job but just a routine job for the public works department each year.

The engineer had given the council a figure and the council should let him go ahead, Ald. Baxter said. "But if he can't do it for the figure he names, then we should look for a new engineer."

Later in the discussion, Mr. Jones stated that his figures were an estimate and not a guarantee.

Ald. Kent said he hesitated to say "no" to the engineer's recommendation that the job be done by the city as he felt it would be taking away from the authority of a department head. He would rather have it done by tender, he said, but he would like to see the engineer have the chance.

Following suggestions by Ald. Skillings and Ald. Kent that the Memorial Arena was an example where the city was wrong, Ald. Hunter pointed out that the city engineer had nothing to do with the estimates on cost of the arena.

Acting Mayor Williams was against city workmen doing the seawall repair job and pointed out that, due to the time of the year, it would be almost impossible to get the job done without some difficulty. It was felt the contractor had taken this into consideration in submitting his tender.

As for the suggestion that the city engineer stake his position on the job, the acting mayor said he would not ask that. "It isn't fair," he added.

The recommendation from Ald. Hunter's public works committee to the council followed the provincial government's announcement that it would pay 50 per cent of the cost of repairing the seawall, providing the total amount did not exceed $100,000.

The present job will not complete the whole of the repairs required and it is expected further work will be done next year.

Filipino Mayóress Visits City Council

A message of faith was delivered to City Council Tuesday afternoon in person by Mrs. Virginia Oteyza de Guia, vice-mayóress of Baguio City in the Philippines.

Mrs. de Guia, who had meant to slip into the council meeting quietly to see how it was conducted, said that, in her travels through Canada, she had found little difference in civic administration from that in her own land.

She spoke of the task of rebuilding her own city, ravaged during the Pacific war.

"We need capital and, above all, we need strong faith... but we have it."

The people of the Philippines, she said, wanted to become strong, and take their place among the United Nations to further the cause of peace.

Accept Invitations

An invitation by the Pacific National Exhibition to its B.C. Products Day, featuring Victoria, Aug. 25, was accepted by City Council Tuesday afternoon.

The invitation was accepted for the mayor, now on holiday, and the council decided he could send to the event in Vancouver any alderman he wished to send. Accepted on a similar basis was an invitation to the Sept. 3 Derby Week festivities in Port Angeles.

Approve Gas Plant

City Council Tuesday afternoon authorized installation of a propane gas plant by Petrosas Sales Ltd., Vancouver, on Canadian National Railway property between Tye Road and the C.N.R. tracks south of the Horton shingle mill.

Approve Payment

City Council Tuesday afternoon approved payment of $1,769 of the Family Welfare and Children's Aid Society account as Victoria's 1949 share towards juvenile court work.

'Get Tough' Policy Adopted By City On Increased Fees

City Council Tuesday afternoon adopted a "get tough" policy to collect its recently increased trades license fees.

The policy was adopted following a letter from J. R. McIlree, J. N. McIlree and W. R. McIntyre, barristers and solicitors, who enclosed a cheque for $75 to cover the license fee at the old rate of $25 each.

The three barristers wrote that they had been advised by the Bar Association to withhold further payment until the legality of the increase had been studied.

A letter of reply from the city's license inspector said that under the present circumstances, the fee for a license to practise would be a total of $225 for the three lawyers.

His letter to the lawyers said, "Under these circumstances a license cannot be issued and you are practising illegally and your cheque is returned herewith."

The council moved the matter be referred to the city solicitor with instructions that he take necessary steps to see the fee was paid.

Acting Administrator

W. Hooson, assistant administrator of the city's social welfare department, is to be appointed as acting administrator during any absence of the administrator during 1949, it was decided by City Council Tuesday afternoon on the recommendation of the city's social welfare committee.

Stabbed To Death

LONDON (CP)—Edith Wallis, 36, an attractive blonde, was found stabbed to death Tuesday in the office of the secretarial employment agency she operated near Drury Lane. The office showed evidence of a struggle. Bloodstains on the stairs indicated the assailant had been wounded.

Wants City Vehicles Pooled For Economy

Pooling of City of Victoria motor vehicle equipment and consolidation of authority over it was recommended by Ald. Waldo Skillings to City Council Tuesday afternoon.

The council moved that advice on the alderman's suggestion be sought from the firm of business engineers who, next week, will commence a survey of the city's administration.

In making his recommendation, Ald. Skillings said the city operated more vehicles than any other city in the city, including the police and fire departments, he said, the city owned and operated nearly 100 vehicles.

He excluded the police and fire departments from his proposal, recognizing the need for these groups to operate independently. However, he said, this left the city with 50 trucks, five cars and five motorcycles, "yet we see fit to let our several departments operate these vehicles independently."

He asked that the vehicles be pooled and some dispatcher system set up. A tremendous economy would be effected, he claimed, adding that a large amount of time and money could be lost without some kind of control.

He claimed that if he had the job of controlling the vehicles he could cut down the number of trucks by 30 to 40 per cent and cut down expenses by the same percentage.

"One of the soundest things brought up for some time," said Acting Mayor Ed. Williams.

To Seek Exemption For City Vehicles

City Council Tuesday afternoon endorsed a suggestion by the street lighting committee that a claim be submitted for exemption in 1950 from license fees for all motor vehicles used for street maintenance and repair work.

This is in accordance with the Motor Vehicle Act and it is estimated the exemption would save the city $200 a year.

Aldermen Argue Over Plan For Intersection Traffic

Marking of directional traffic lanes at the Fountain intersection as a temporary measure was ordered by City Council Tuesday afternoon following a protest by the transportation committee over "continued delay" in implementation of the traffic plan recommended by the Washington State Highway Commission and subsequently approved by Victoria's Town Planning Commission.

The directive followed a dispute between Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the transportation committee, and Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the public works committee which is dealing with the proposed traffic scheme for the intersection.

Ald. Hunter protested the appearance of news reports in which Ald. Diggon was quoted as saying his committee was recommending the temporary measure in view of the "continued delay" in implementation of the highway commission's plan.

He wanted to know why the papers had carried the story before he had heard of the recommendation.

On behalf of his committee and himself, he said, he objected to the appearance of the articles. The traffic plan, he said, had been in the hands of his committee for some time and it had information which it was not able to divulge. However, he told the council, some action was expected in a short time.

POINTING OUT HAZARD

Ald. Diggon said he was not intending to dictate to the public works committee but just point out that the present intersection was a hazard to public safety.

Acting Mayor Ed. Williams came to the rescue so far as the press reports were concerned. He had, he said, often told the reporters they should be in the detective office. They had ways of securing information, he added.

However, he continued, that did not alter the fact that the committee in its own words, as contained in the official report to the council, expressed concern over the "continued delay" of the public works committee in implementing the traffic plan at the intersection.

Ald. Hunter replied that his committee was not "slumbering." "We're just as anxious to get this job done as anyone else," he said. "It will be done as soon as possible."

To Prepare Report On Cost Of Roads

Victoria's public works committee is to present a report on expenditures to date on the city's road program to the next meeting of City Council.

At City Council meeting Tuesday afternoon, Ald. John Baxter asked for such a report and was informed by Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the committee, that the engineer already had been instructed to prepare it.

Ald. M. A. Kent said he could not see the point of the report. If there had been more spent than was estimated for, the council would soon hear about it, he said.

Release Buildings At Macaulay Camp

Two buildings at Macaulay Camp will be released by the city to the Department of National Defence.

This was ordered by City Council Tuesday afternoon on the recommendation of the lands committee in accordance with a request by the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council of Greater Victoria which wanted the buildings released for demolition to make way for the defence department's housing project in the adjacent area.

Order Re-Analysis Of Street-Marking System For Traffic

A further analysis of the present system of marking direction lines for traffic in downtown streets was ordered by City Council Tuesday afternoon.

This followed a recommendation by the transportation committee, headed by Ald. H. M. Diggon, which received a complaint from the B.C. Electric Railway that present lanes marked for right-hand turns did not leave enough room for the company's buses to make the turn.

Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the public works committee asked why the objection had not been made before other streets had been painted following the experiment at the Fort and Douglas Streets intersection.

Ald. Diggon replied that the difficulties of the situation had not been realized in time.

Want Sidewalks To Be Permanent

Victoria's public works committee is to study a recommendation that all sidewalks installed in future shall be of a permanent nature.

The matter came up at City Council Tuesday afternoon over a proposal to lay a gravel sidewalk along a portion of Fairfield Road.

Acting Mayor Ed. Williams said it seemed a short policy to put down an unsatisfactory sidewalk. It was felt that many people would not use a gravel path.

It was suggested that the extra cost (50 to 60 per cent) of an asphalt sidewalk would be worthwhile.

Sale of seven city-owned lots for a total of $6,220 was approved by City Council Tuesday afternoon.

Sale included that of the old Duchess Street firehall for $4,000.

Sewer System Up To Saanich Citizens; 'Can't Compel It,' Says B.C. Official

If Saanich ratepayers insist on defeating moves to rid the municipality of the reek of sewage and the resultant health danger involved, it is beyond the jurisdiction of the Provincial Department of Health to take forcible action to rectify the situation.

That, in effect, was the reply to Saanich Council's recent application to the government to take action to force the installation of a sewerage system in the municipality, from Dr. G. F. Amyot, provincial health officer and deputy Minister of Health, in a letter read Tuesday night.

"It is a matter that can only be solved by the action of the citizens of the municipality," Dr. Amyot said.

The message evoked the wrath of Councillor Leslie Passmore, Ward Seven.

"I'd like to know why we are paying for a health department which does not act when acute conditions such as exist in Saanich are placed before it," said the outspoken council member.

Councillor K. R. Genn, Ward Five, however, pointed out that if things were pressed too far it would take on the features of dictatorship.

"You've got to have dictatorship to bring about remedial action when conditions threaten the health of the citizens like this one does," was the quick comeback of Mr. Passmore.

All efforts of the council to have a sewerage system installed in the municipality through money by-laws have been consistently turned down by majority vote.

As a last resort lately, the council turned to the Department of Health to seek action to force issue.

Council placed the letter from Dr. Amyot in the "received and filed" file.

The provincial health officer noted in his letter the problem facing the council was, in the main, due to defeat of the sewerage by-law in 1947.

"We are entirely sympathetic to the council's predicament, especially as we receive numerous complaints directly to this department concerning the unsanitary conditions in the inner areas of Saanich due to septic tank effluent flooding into ditches and over private property," the deputy minister wrote.

"However, this department does not have the authorization to compel any municipality to install sewers, jurisdiction and autonomy remaining directly within the hands of the citizens themselves," the letter continued.

Dr. Amyot pointed out that where the electorate is not agreeable to accept the recommendations of their elected representatives, "there seems to be little that can be done."

He suggested that the matter be reintroduced to the ratepayers "in the hope they will realize the necessity toward improving existing conditions through the construction of a satisfactory municipal sewerage system."

Saanich Hopes Rise For Amalgamation Of Phone Exchanges

Hopes of Saanich Council members for the Albion and Colquitz telephone exchanges being embraced in the Victoria exchange, rose Tuesday night after the reading of a letter from G. L. Frost, executive assistant of the B.C. Telephone Co.

"Intercommunication between several sections of the district and between our exchanges in this municipality and Victoria is gradually assuming greater importance and implementation of this gradual change has for some time received the attention of this company," Mr. Frost wrote.

"From our studies to date, it would appear that a sufficient community of interest exists between Victoria and Albion and Colquitz exchanges to warrant consideration of a proposal to extend the Victoria exchange to include these adjoining areas," he said.

Mr. Frost emphasized, however, that implementing of a change of this character would require extensive plant rearrangements and additions and could not be accomplished for a considerable period.

In regard to the B.C. Bulb Growers' Federation recommendation that until such time as the amalgamation was made in the larger picture that there be an amalgamation of Keating and Sidney exchanges with a 5-cent toll charge to and from Victoria.

"The bulb growers suggestion introduces a new aspect to the situation which would require further study by this company. Such a study will be undertaken as soon as possible and you will be advised in due course," Mr. Frost concluded.

Copies of the company's letter will be sent to Ward Six Ratepayers' Association and the bulb growers' federation.

Garbage Men Who By-Pass 'Service Drive' Criticized

Mrs. Eleanor M. Cornish, a widow living at 1970 Argyle Avenue, has strong objections to the behaviour of garbage men who call at her place to remove the collections.

Her letter read at the Saanich Council meeting Tuesday night was voted to be passed on to the chief garbage collector "without comment."

The first time, during the bad weather with snow last winter, when the collectors used the front drive "passing the front door" instead of the service drive, Mrs. Cornish said she made no objection because of the state of the roads.

Later the same thing happened and she complained to the chief collector.

On the third occasion when one of the helpers came up through the private family entrance and past the front door, Mrs. Cornish complained to him but received no reply.

It happened again, "and when I spoke to the man he replied insolently," the letter continued.

In the closing portion of the communication, Mrs. Cornish said she believed householders should not be subjected to such behaviour from municipal employees.

"I do not myself use the front door or pass it when attending to this type of work and I hope you will be able to prevent a repetition of such undesirable behaviour," Mr. Cornish concluded.

Saanich garbage collection is handled by contract.

High-Voltage Power Line To Be Strung

The high-voltage power line that has Crease Avenue on its route will be installed overhead not underground.

Saanich council Tuesday night received and filed a letter signed by E. N. Horsey, engineering consultant of the B.C.E.R. Co., stating that the company was going through with its overhead plans.

The council had forwarded a petition from residents of Crease opposing placing of the high-voltage line along the street to the company. Also accompanying it was a recommendation that although the municipal engineer had approved the original plans of the company, "the council, nevertheless, feels that lines of this type should be installed underground, particularly in residential areas."

"In the first place I should point out that following receipt of approval from your engineer covering the location of the transmission line in Saanich, and the approval of the city in connection with the same project, our company took immediate steps. We ordered materials and construction of the line in order to ensure that the southerly end of it would be complete and in full use this fall," said Mr. Horsey.

He pointed out the method employed in the construction of the new line was in keeping with a standard practice adopted by the company and generally by power companies on the continent.

"If such lines had to be placed underground through existing and potential residential districts it would add tremendously to the cost, which, in turn would have a serious effect upon the cost of improving service to the public," Mr. Horsey said.

He added that to follow such a course, even in the Crease Avenue area would require the ordering of an entirely different type of material, and very seriously delay completion of the project and prohibit the southerly end of the line being available for use this fall, which in turn was essential to the maintenance of a reliable service.

Million New Jobs In U.S. By Year End, Truman Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman received cheering reports Tuesday that business shows signs of picking up and that 1,000,000 new jobs may open up in the United States by the end of the year.

Offsetting this to some extent was a report from the commerce department that the country's output of goods and services—the so-called "gross national product"—sagged again in the second quarter of 1949. While running considerably under the record business of last fall and winter, production this year was equal to that of 1948, taken as a whole.

Labor Secretary Maurice Tobin made the optimistic report about jobs. Emil Schram, president of the New York Stock Exchange, described "encouraging signs" of a reversal in the downward economic trend. Both men called on the President at the White House.

Talking with reporters afterwards, Tobin forecast that a pick-up in jobs would become apparent in about a month, if businessmen bought goods to make up for depleted inventories. He said, too, that the unemployment figures should show a marked drop as young summer-time workers go back to school, opening job opportunities for others.

Tobin qualified his prediction of 1,000,000 new jobs by crossing his fingers against the possibility of big strikes in the coal and steel industries.

Schram said the United States undoubtedly has been going through a period of inventory adjustment — cutting down on stocks in hand. But he said a good many plants now are reopening and putting employees back to work.

'Scottish Chief' Protests Against Clan's Color Bar

KINGSTON, Jamaica (CP) — The 25th chief of a Scottish clan has charged that a Scottish "color bar" is being used to relieve him of his chieftainship.

The chief is Langton George Duncan Haldane Robertson, 51, a history master at Munroe College here. He is 25th chief of the Scottish clan Domhachaidh, oldest family in Scotland whose ancestors were relatives of the royal house which ruled that land in the 11th century.

Robertson says he has cancelled plans for a ceremonial visit to Scotland this week because he will not submit to what he calls a "revolting and insulting parade and examination as to his color."

Robertson's great-grandmother was a negro. He said she was a "woman of real loveliness" — generally known as "Venus."

Robertson says that action has been taken in Edinburgh by a minority group of the clan Domhachaidh to remove him from the chieftainship, to which he succeeded on his father's death in January.

(In Edinburgh, J. R. Robertson, secretary of the Domhachaidh clan, said clansmen had taken no objection to the chief but that some people considered it would be better to have a chieftain living in Britain than one 3,000 miles away. He said the clan's only communication from the chief was a notice that he intended officially to record his claim to the title.)

No One Exempt In Water Use Rules

Saanich Council won't give an inch to relieve any person or faction from adhering to its water restrictions imposed during the water-shortage months.

The Board of School Trustees of School District No. 61, in a letter to the council, asked for special consideration to provide adequate water to get playing fields at schools in shape.

The answer will be "no," and to try and get along as best they can this year under the restrictions, as there is promise of relief for next summer with the installation of the big reservoir.

May Be Hostages

LONDON (UP) — Jaroslav Drobný, self-exiled Czech tennis star, said Tuesday the Czech government may be holding his family and that of his partner, Vladimir Cernik, as "hostages."

"We have not heard a word from our families since we decided to leave," Drobný said on his arrival from Paris.

To Study Problem On Harriet Road

Saanich Council building committee, Councillors L. H. Passmore of Ward Seven and John G. Ryan of Ward Two, and Engineer H. D. Dawson, were authorized by Saanich Council Tuesday night to go into all aspects of a situation concerning Harriet Road, between Hampton and Burnside Roads.

They will consider, among other things, the advisability of putting the road in the centre of the road allowance, the cost that would be entailed, and the possibility of using dirt from such a project to fill in the dip in the road passing Rudd Playground Park.

In the meantime, the road program in that area has been stopped.

90 Years Growing With Victoria

Nurses Leave Today For Africa

With final inoculations a thing of the past and everything but their toothbrushes packed, the Misses Joyce Spencer, left, and Loris Brynjolfson tell you of friends who doubted their enthusiasm would last long enough to make this two-year trip a reality. "We've the last laugh now," they say with delighted chuckles, "for we will be bidding everyone a fond farewell tonight."

Excitement reigns supreme at 775 Hampshire Road as two popular members of Victoria's younger set, Miss Loris Brynjolfson and Miss Joyce Spencer, busy themselves with last-minute details for a round-the-world trip to Africa.

The attractive young girls will step aboard the Mv. Chinook this evening for San Francisco and Hollywood on the first lap of their journey. At Los Angeles they will board the Ss. Linberg for Capetown where they will be met by Miss Brynjolfson's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John MacLeod. From there they will be whisked off to their new home in Ookiep, 400 miles north, where Mr. MacLeod is a superintendent of a copper mine.

"The entire trip will take us seven or eight weeks," says blonde and petite Miss Brynjolfson.

Friends since early school days at Oak Bay High School and Victoria College, the adventurous girls first "thought up" this trip when they were training at Vancouver General Hospital, where they graduated last year. And the idea has grown rapidly while they have been working at the Veterans' Hospital here during the past 11 months.

"So many nurses who were overseas during the war have told us of the wonders of Africa and of Europe," the girls chorus in one breath, "that we just had to go and see it all for ourselves."

Although their plans are not definite following arrival in Africa they have tentatively decided to work in one of the Cape town hospitals for a while. Later, they will go to France and perhaps work in a hospital there. Italy and Iceland are also included on the itinerary.

Miss Spencer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer, 611 Monterey Avenue, and Miss Brynjolfson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Brynjolfson, 775 Hampshire Road.

S. McKinnon, 1633 Wilmut Place. Following luncheon, copies of resolutions to be presented at the conference will be read and discussed.

An artistically decorated three-tier mock wedding cake concealed many gifts for Miss June Dunn, a September bride-elect, when Miss Jill Doughty-Davies entertained at her Lampson Street home Tuesday evening. The honor guest was presented with a corsage of red roses and stephanotis on her arrival at the kitchen shower. A silver bowl filled with pink sweet peas flanked by pink tapers centred the lace-covered refreshment table where Mrs. O. Jell assisted the hostess in pouring tea. Guests were Mrs. T. Reynolds, Mrs. A. R. Moody, Misses Betty Kerley, Barbara Shaw, Clare Greene, Ida Bianco and Gwenn Sandy.

Miss Dianne Cox was hostess to friends at her home, 950 Joan Crescent, last evening, at a bridal shower for Miss Ivy Spilsbury. A hand-made lace cloth covered the tea table, and tiny white flowers and tall white candles in silver holders formed the centre-piece. The bride-elect was presented with a corsage bouquet of pink cornflowers and gardenias, and a four-piece set of "Morning Star" Community plate. Her mother, Mrs. T. S. Spilsbury, received a pink rosebud corsage bouquet. Other guests included Mrs. Eva McLeod, Mrs. Joyce Trace, Mrs. A. H. Cox, and Misses Margaret Fairley, Vera Pearson, Joan Hal-dane, Barbara Cox, Joan Shaver, Marie Woodyard, Jean Chambers and Eva Webb.

Special Course In Home Nursing For New Canadians

A 10-week course in home nursing is being sponsored by St. John Ambulance Association for Victoria's new Canadians.

The course, the first of this kind offered the new Canadians, gives practical instruction in nursing, teaching care of sick persons in the home.

Students, who have come from Poland, Estonia, Russia, the Ukraine and Lithuania, are enthusiastic about the classes. During the first meeting, four enrolled. Now membership has increased to 14, and includes one male student.

The biggest problem is their difficulty with the language. "This means that they have to study much more than regular St. John Ambulance members," explains practical instructor, Mrs. Faith Braiden.

"All have the regular Home Nursing Book, printed in English, and are studying now for examinations next month, when certificates will be awarded," she adds.

Assisting with instruction is Dr. Richard Felton, divisional surgeon, Denton Holmes Cadet Corps.

Adrian's Styles Influenced By Africa's Chiefs

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—The Wilds of Africa have invaded fashions.

Inspired by his recent trip to the dark continent, Adrian has designed a series of fashions that look like everything from costumes of native chiefs to cold, sleek cobras.

Tiger stripes and leopard spots dazzled the eye at Adrian's fall fashion showing yesterday. One outfit, a sleek hooded suit of cobra-like material, with long tapering gloves, is startlingly reminiscent of the venomous reptile.

Another costume, dressed up with braid and tassels, looks like a fuzzy-wuzzy native. Long fringe and braids make another look like an Indian princess' garb.

Unusual and tricky sleeves are used in Adrian's more conservative numbers. Cut-out shoulders, sleeves like angel's wings, sleeves like fans, and cape-effect sleeves are distinctive.

Trend To Less Fur—Lower Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Women will be wearing fewer fur-trimmed coats this fall, statistics-collectors for the United States commerce department indicated today.

They came out with a study of women's, misses' and juniors' outerwear industries, and only fur-trimmed coats showed fewer cuttings in the first quarter of 1949 than in the same period last year.

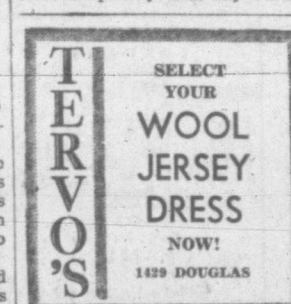

The department said the reduction was a slashing 60 per cent. "For all garments, except fur-trimmed coats, a higher proportion of output fell in the lowest price classes during first quarter of 1949 than during the same quarter of last year," the department said.

Gilbert, Sullivan Society Picnic

Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Society picnic was held at "Combingdale," the Ten Mile Point home of Ivan Howell. More than 75 members and friends of the society enjoyed an evening of music. Welners were served about a bonfire. Colonel Mills, stage director, outlined the story and characters of "The Pirates of Penzance," which will be produced early in February.

Tomatoes are a good home-grown source of vitamin C—ascorbic acid. Strawberries also provide this vitamin.

Of all the letters of the alphabet, the letter "e" is used more frequently than any other.

Today's Recipe

DEVONSHIRE CREAM

Devonshire cream is made with one quart milk (preferably unpasteurized) and one pint heavy cream. Place milk and cream in a shallow pan. Set it in a cool place and leave it undisturbed for 48 hours. Then carefully set the pan over a low heat. Heat very slowly until bubbles appear around the edge. Do not let the milk boil. Remove from the fire, cool and then set in ice box to chill. Skim off the cream. It will be thick and clotted, and have the consistency of soft cream cheese. Serve it cold with fruit, berries or pies.

LEICESTERSHIRE REEFSTEAK PUDDING

Make puffing paste by sifting together 3 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt. Add to these ingredients 1 cup beef suet, chopped fine. (Be kind to your butcher and order the suet the day before, as it is hard to clean the grinding machine after the suet, and it can then be ground the last thing in the day.) Mix to a paste with a little cold water. Line an oiled pyrex or fire pudding dish with the paste.

Cut in small pieces and put in a bowl 1½ pounds lean beefsteak, 1½ tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper to taste. Add meat to the pasted dish. Pour over cold water, barely enough to cover. Cover with remainder of the paste, tie all in a floured cloth and boil three hours. Serve hot.

Archaeological surveys are now making use of the helicopter. Two of these machines were used in May in a survey of the grass lands of Panama by the National Geographic Society.

Centuries ago, it was customary for Roman shoemakers to form parades almost daily so the marchers' shoes would wear out quickly and provide more work.

Gardiner, 1033 St. Patrick Street, and the late J. A. Gardiner. The wedding will take place at St. John's Anglican Church, Sept. 3, at 7.15 p.m. Miss Colman will be attended by Mrs. H. McKay of Vancouver as matron of honor and Miss B. Bolin of this city as bridesmaid. Her fiancé is a graduate of University of British Columbia and is affiliated with Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

DON'T PUNISH CHILD FOR TOILET ACCIDENTS

Mothers can be pretty philosophical about uncleanly toilet habits until the child is old enough to talk. Then, for some reason, they expect that the ability to say words and the ability to stay clean and dry will run parallel. If the child fails to tell them when he needs attention, they consider this behavior merits punishment.

While a child may be able to say the words that indicate a need for attention, he may be completely ignorant of the bodily sensations which precede his need.

Even when the child has been accustomed to regular attention, when, in a word, he knows what it is all about, he must grow into a stage of physical development before he is aware of his own needs and can control them or anticipate them far enough in advance to prevent accidents. Why some children develop more rapidly than others is a very individual thing. There are general patterns of development and it may be expected that by three years of age the child will be both dry and clean and able to tell the parent of his need for service.

Once the parent begins to administer punishment because of accidents, she allies strong, unpleasant emotions to this purely physical development and makes it even more difficult for the child to co-operate with her. For, if there is any area in which the child has an opportunity to be an independent individual—and think how dear this privilege is to him—it is in the area of toilet habits.

No one, not even his mother, can make him act unless he is so inclined, nor can she prevent him from acting reprehensively, if he so desires.

For these reasons alone, if not in fairness to the child himself, it would be good sense and good judgment never to ally punishment with toilet behavior. It just puts up the child's back and makes him an enemy to the parent's demands. It solidifies, within himself, the knowledge that he can do as he pleases, though the parent rave and tear her hair.

The mother, for these three years, should give the child the opportunity to stay clean and dry by giving him regular, pleasant attention. By so doing she crystallizes the habit of being clean, shows the child the cultural patterns of toilet behavior that is followed by adults and does not expect success of him until he is physically ready for it.

If this program is adhered to, the child will want to take over the control of his own behavior as soon as he is able to do so, and there will be no antagonism against the parent to complicate his willingness.

Our leaflet No. 65, "Toilet Behavior," explains the usual stages of development and the accompanying behavior. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

May Use Jet Airliners

CANBERRA (Reuter) — Australia will replace her present commercial aircraft built in the United States with British-built jet airliners within five years, Sir Keith Park, representative of the British Hawker Siddeley air group, predicted Tuesday. Jet airliners seat between 40 and 60 passengers and fly at 500 miles an hour from 30,000 to 40,000 feet, he said.

On Oct. 1, 1948, there were an estimated 75,000,000 radio sets in the United States.

ATLAS THEATRE

Sam Wood, with such memorable film hits to his credit as "Goodbye Mr. Chips," "Kitty Foyle," has never in his career filmed a scene as lengthy as one he made on the set of "Command Decision," now showing on the Atlas screen.

"Jimmie"

LAST Sunday morn... the sky leaden-grey, we watched the sun rise... at Cowichan Bay. Yes... at 5 a.m. after many a yawn, with all lines out... we greeted the dawn. The G.F. didn't go... to share in the fun, in her place a tourist... & Jimmie... his son. But she DID get up... at a quarter to 4, my eggs to fry & the coffee 2 pour. She made me wear rubbers, & shave my face, for 2 bits I'd flopped... to my resting-place. 'Cept the horn of the Buick, heaped outside, so I grabbed the thermos... Boy, what a ride! Over the Malahat... in the pre-dawn, the convertible low-slung... pale green & fawn. With windows that slide... as a button U press, plus a top that goes up... & down effortless. Almost the same as these davenport, suites, the matching chair with channel pleats. Do double duty as you pay, a bed by night... a sofa by day. Not a living soul... did we pass on the way, soon our launch was kicking... up the spray. A very trim craft... Mr. Ordano rent, "Good Luck!" he cried... as off we went. Jimmie took the wheel, & what utter joy, smiled on the face... of this little boy. Out for a "big one"... for the very first time. "Boy... What a Boat"... his eyes did shine. How he'd boast to his pals, when he got back, "Are you all set, Dad... with the Kodak?" Then we slowed down to trolling pace, there were other "darn-fools"... all over the place. Lines on the surface, others with weights, simply amazing my friend... from the Southern States. "Just what do they mean," as we went up & down, "that Victoria is... a sleepy town. When," he continued, adjusting some gear, "they're all early-birds... & all up here." "Any luck," cried Jimmie, "did YOU get a bite?" as we passed other ships... in the night. "Let's circle around... and get nearer shore," then onto my line... sped man-o-war. Then far in the rear, a belly-flop splash, "I got him," I cried, "lookit 'im thrash. Here, you Jimmie... take the line, s-t-e-a-d-y now... or the others you'll twine." Your clothes won't twine in THIS washing machine, the "SIMPLICITY" twirls them... cleaner than clean. There's a 2-year guarantee against one little squeak, for just $134... come, take a peek. To gleaming enamel... it's really nifty, & we throw in some RINSO... 1950. "Good gosh... Daddy... come and feel!" "Go ahead, son... wind in the reel." "That's it, now let him run." "Oh golly," said Jimmie, "but this is fun." "Take up that slack, wind in again," what did we care it was starting to rain? "Grab the Kodak, Pop... Gee... lookit that thing, bet it's 50 lbs... bet it's a spring." Pop was all set, this epic to snap, as beside the launch... our "whale" did flap. Jimmie was exhausted... about all in, "LOOKIT!" he shouted, the size of that fin. I was all set... with the raft. Pop was all set... to photograph. When all-of-a-sudden, I'm sorry to say, we just filmed the "Big One That Got Away." And all Jimmie got, with his play & tug, a little red fish... the wooden plug. But if you come down to this joint, we're sure WE won't disappoint. If a bedroom suite is part of your quest, the newest have the Mr... & Mrs. Chest. But we're going again... tomorrow morn, so I hope when U read... more of this corn. That in our battle with these heavyweights, the winnah will be... from the friendly States. Be kind to us, fish, put Jimmie in Heaven, 'cause after all, fellows... he's a little boy, just turned ELEVEN.

Beauty Contest Will Open Tonight On Dominion Stage

Chosen from 40 entries are the nine Victoria lovelies who will walk across the stage of the Dominion Theatre tonight for the chance of representing Victoria in the "Miss P.N.E." contest.

The audience must decide by ballot and the nine girls will be on the stage tonight, Thursday night and Friday night, after which ballots will be counted.

The lucky winner will then have a chance at a $1,000 scholarship to follow her particular career or $500 in cash, a chaperoned trip to Hollywood and a meeting with Charlie McCarthy at the exhibition over which she will rule from Aug. 24 to Sept. 5.

The girls will appear on each of the three evenings on the Dominion stage, first in either summer play suit attire, without hat, or evening dress. Then they will wear bathing suits.

The audience will be asked to mark the name of the contestant they consider outstanding in poise, personality and general bearing. The contestants are: Dorothy Bradshaw, Jeanne Burdette, Merle Evenden, Joan Morgan, Diana Gould, Maureen Smith, Shirley Gunn, Inez Mas-Leod and Louise Malone.

'Edward, My Son' At Royal Today

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's hands-across-the-sea film program, inaugurated 10 years ago with partial filming of its first picture in London, was climaxed recently with production of the studio's first entirely British-made American picture, "Edward, My Son," which opens today at the Royal Theatre.

The picture, starring Spencer Tracy and Deborah Kerr, celebrated completion of M-G-M's British studios at Boreham Wood, Epsom, near London.

The new plant, formerly known as Amalgamated Studios, was completed in 1937 but served as an aircraft factory until last year when it was decided to open the studio with "Edward, My Son."

One hundred and twenty acres of grounds and five new stages made it possible to film the British-written Broadway hit

Heintzelman Jinx Holds On Brooklyn

Curve-balling Kenny Heintzelman has whipped St. Louis Cardinals three times this season. Yet he probably would be elected mayor of St. Louis if he chose to run.

He is the only pitcher who holds five straight decisions over the Cards' most hated rivals, Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Dodgers faced a golden opportunity to strengthen their ½ game National League lead last night, but could not fathom the slants of the 33-year-old veteran.

Earlier, the Cards had blown a 4 to 2 lead in the ninth when Chicago Cubs rallied for three runs to win 5 to 4.

Heintzelman hurled a 12-inning seven-hitter to whip the Dodgers 2 to 1. Richie Ashburn tripled home Kenny in the top of the 12th for the winning run. Heintzelman had reached base on a force out.

Don Newcombe was the losing hurler. The Dodger righthander kept pace with Heintzelman for 11 innings but went down to his fifth defeat.

Max Lanier started for the Cards but gave way for a pinch hitter in the eighth. He had victory in his grasp when his mates rallied to give him a 3 to 2 lead, but Ted Wilks and Howie Pollock couldn't protect it as the Cubs scored three times in the ninth.

CLEVELAND SECOND
Al Benton, a 33-year-old cast-off, pitched Cleveland Indians into second place in the torrid American League race. Benton, released last year by Detroit, stopped his former mates with six hits as the Indians shut out the Tigers 5 to 0. The triumph put the Tribe two percentage points over Boston Red Sox and 3½ games behind the pace-setting New York Yankees. Rain washed out the scheduled Yankee-Washington game.

Manager Lou Boudreau rapped in two runs, and outfielder Larry Doby smacked two doubles and scored twice, to lead the Indians at bat against loser Virgil Trucks.

Philadelphia Athletics defeated Boston 7 to 4 to snap a seven-game winning streak for the Red Sox. The defeat dropped the Sox 3½ games behind the Yankees. Sam Chapman's eighth-inning home run started a four-run rally that spelled defeat for young Maurice McDermott. Joe Coleman spaced 10 hits for his 11th victory.

Lefty Monte Kennedy pitched New York Giants to a 4 to 0 victory over Boston Braves. Kennedy allowed five hits in backing up his fourth shutout victory, and drove in the first home run off loser Warren Spahn.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dusty Beauty, owned by the Meadowbrook Stables of Winnipeg, scored an easy four-length victory in the $1,200 British Columbia Oaks for three-year-old fillies at Exhibition Park Tuesday.

Jockey Teddy Johnson nudged the chestnut out of the gate, ran the challenging Eliris into the ground and drew away from the field in the final eighth of the mile jaunt.

Flying Scabb closed rapidly to place second, a length ahead of the third horse, Sky Meadows. The winner paid $8.30 on the straight end.

Sports Round-Up

By CHARLES C. CAIN

Manager Jack Adams of Detroit Red Wings took to the storm shelter yesterday after announcing he had traded defenseman Bill Quackenbush to Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League. The 27-year-old Quackenbush has been with the Red Wings since 1942 and was named an all-star defenceman last year. Adams, reminded that the Detroit fans are sure to ride him for the trade, replied, "I know all this, but we want the Stanley Cup. We have defencemen and we don't have forwards. We had to trade, and you can be sure I hate to lose Quackenbush."

There probably wasn't any happier guy in the major leagues yesterday than Jig Al Benton of Cleveland Indians when he tossed a six-hit 5 to 0 game against his old teammates, the Detroit Tigers. Things you don't hear around Detroit—harsh words about manager Red Rolfe of the Tigers. It's amazing how everyone, including the ball players, the sports writers and the fans are unanimous in saying kind words about the patient Rolfe.

The Hazel Park Racing Association, undaunted by declining attendance and mutual handles at other Michigan tracks, opens its luxurious new track in suburban Detroit today.

The Michigan Racing Association dropped an estimated $300,000 in its first 80-day meet at the Detroit Fair Grounds.

Don Campbell Fails In Speedboat Run

CONISTON, England (AP)—Donald Campbell today wrecked the engine of his speedboat, Bluebird II, in a vain attempt to beat his father's world record of 141.74 miles an hour.

Young Campbell hit 138.46 on his first one-mile run over Lake Coniston and got up to 132.35 on the return trip for an average of 135.34.

This was 6.4 miles an hour slower than the late Sir Malcolm Campbell's mark set here with the same boat in 1939.

His 28-year-old son said: "The increased thrust and power I used this morning has worked the gearbox, forcing an end cap off the drive shaft."

gregate number of points for the day with Sonny Gilder second and Ron Blenden third.

'Song Of Norway' Opens Tomorrow; Horsfall To Conduct

"Song of Norway," the final and spectacular musical production to be presented by the Victoria Theatre Foundation, will open tomorrow night at 8.30 in the Memorial Arena for a three-night run. Basil Horsfall, senior musical director for the Theatre Under the Stars and formerly of Victoria, will direct the performances.

Mr. Horsfall has been associated with music and the stage since he began composing at an early age. In his early years he undertook musical direction of an opera touring Ireland and since that time he has been associated with many light opera companies. Mr. Horsfall directed the first Canadian broadcast of a complete opera. Apart from directing he has composed light operas and is the inventor of the operafilm.

At the opening of "Song of Norway," Doreen Wilson, Victoria's own star of Broadway, will be greeted by the Sons of Norway, who will attend this premiere 100 strong in their traditional costumes. The local Elkswood Lodge has participated in many of the arrangements in order to make this musical masterpiece, based on the life of Edward Greig, an outstanding success.

"Song of Norway" concludes this season's presentations by the Victoria Theatre Foundation. Tickets are on sale at Fletcher's.

The blind, the partially blind, and their guides vied with one another in sports such as horse-shoes, beanbag throw, and races of various kinds during the afternoon's events of the Institute for the Blind sports at Sunshine Camp.

Wires strung from the start to the finish line served as guides for the sightless as they raced. In the beanbag throwing the thud of bag on wood served to tell them whether they had hit the target, while the shouts of "too high" or "too short" helped them to judge their next throw. Enthusiastic cheers greeted Mrs. Pollock, who serves as guide to one of the campers, and Mr. Richardson, one of the sightless, as their bags sailed through the centre of the target.

In the tug-of-war, the men's team of Messrs. McWhirter, Miller, Pollock, Richardson and Pimlott had won the first try, the mixed team, consisting of Mr. Scuter, Mr. Pearson, Mr. Monteth, Mrs. Alexander, and Miss Hicks came through with two straight wins, to be declared the victors.

Enthusiasm was the keynote of the camp. Skies alternately cloudy and sunny failed to spoil campers' enjoyment of the day's events, and when drizzling rain forced postponement of the remainder of the scheduled sports, everyone retired cheerfully to the porch of the lodge for afternoon tea.

In attendance at the camp for a 10-day stay are 24 of Victoria's blind, each, where possible, with a guide. Ten-year-old Violet Webber acts as guide for her father; Mrs. Miller is there as guide to her husband, to whom she has been married only three months. Camp staff under the director, Mrs. E. Kay, arrange boat trips for the campers; sightless and those blessed with sight stroll about on the shore or beneath the trees, or sit enjoying the sunshine as they exchange good-natured quips.

Each of the cabins has its nickname, and sly fun is poked about snoring emanating the night before from "The Empress" or strange noises around "The Beverly." The atmosphere was so casual, so friendly, that it was difficult to realize so many of these people had lost the precious gift of sight. But the familiar white cane was there, the hesitancy of step, the enquiry as to whether it was cloudy, was the sea calm?

This camp combines two of Greater Victoria's Community Chest agencies—the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp.

Trial Opens On Driving Charge From Accident Injuring Three

Trial of Robert A. Rathsburg, 2647 Anson Place, on a charge of dangerous driving under the Criminal Code opened today before Magistrate A. I. Thomas. Eight prosecution witnesses were heard and the case was remanded to next Wednesday for completion.

Charge against Rathsburg arose following an accident at Superior and Menzies Streets on the night of July 28 when his car was in collision with a car driven by Thomas R. Handasyde, 1234 Dallas Road.

The Handasyde car was knocked over on its roof and three persons were taken to hospital for treatment of injuries. Constables Jack Perry and John D. Blackstock and Handasyde told the court they spoke to Rathsburg after the accident and that when asked about the accident accused said he did not know how it happened "because I blacked out."

Miss A. Raynor, 447 Superior, said she was standing at the corner waiting for a bus when the accident occurred. She said the Rathsburg car did not seem to be going fast and that it was making a wide turn to go north on Menzies when the crash took place.

THOUGHT CARS IN RACE

George Armstrong, 225 Superior, one and one-half blocks from the accident scene, said he was in the front garden when he heard a car coming toward the house. Witness said he looked up and saw Rathsburg's car and another car "apparently having a race, tooting their horns and waving to each other as they passed."

The crash followed, Armstrong said. He was positive the car that passed his place was the Rathsburg one in the collision. Witness estimated the Rathsburg car's speed at about 50 miles an hour.

Handasyde told the court he was coming toward Superior at about 20 miles an hour and slacked down at the corner. Witness said he looked both ways and saw an open road all the way and was taking his foot off the brakes when suddenly a car loomed up on his left. "It was too late to do anything," he said. Other witnesses said the Handasyde car's speed was about 20 miles an hour when approaching the corner.

Handasyde said motor mechanics had judged damage to his car at $1,500. "It was an awful mess and is just a bunch of scrap iron now," Constable Aldon Appleton estimated between $400 and $500 damage to the Rathsburg car.

Transfer Of Races To Vancouver Signed

The Lieutenant-Governor today signed an order-in-council authorizing the transfer of two weeks of Willows horse racing to Exhibition Park at Vancouver.

The two weeks will extend racing at the Hastings track from Sept. 9 to 24. The order-in-council states that it is lawful for Colwood Park Association Ltd., with race course at Sandown Park in North Saanich to hold a race meeting at Exhibition Park during the dates stated.

The two weeks extra will give 70 days of racing at the Vancouver track.

A fine of $50 was imposed against Jean McLeod, 2840 Burdick Avenue, in city police court today when she pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawfully having liquor in a Chinatown cafe on Aug. 13.

Tourists Spend Thousands For China, Woolens, Linen

Ceramics, woolen goods and linen are the "big three" which sell best to the thousands of U.S. visitors to Victoria, retail merchant reported today.

Of the three more U.S. dollars are used to buy ceramics than any other type of merchandise, it was learned. It was estimated that tourists spend 50 per cent of their holiday money to buy chinaware. With the rest they buy chiefly woolen and linen goods.

Merchants said the reason why tourists spent so much money on chinaware was because of the exorbitant prices charged for imported ceramics in the United States. A $23 Dalton figure in Victoria sells at $40 in U.S. retail stores.

Imported woolen goods and tweeds also bring many U.S. dollars to Victoria, merchants said.

Tourists are buying chiefly cashmere sweaters and imported tweed coats.

THOUSAND IN A WEEK

One merchant said he believed he could operate a store on just selling cashmere sweaters to tourists. "I can't tell you how many sweaters are being bought in Victoria," he said, "but I've sold over a thousand in a week."

Some merchants reported that their stocks of cashmere sweaters had dwindled considerably due to the heavy demand for them. The sweaters sell between $15 and $20.

Leather purses ranging between $15 and $25 are also being sold in considerable numbers to tourists. Imported tweed coats were also a popular item with tourists with fatter purses.

Antique shops are also doing a considerable trade with tourists, who seemed chiefly interested in buying figurines or old silver.

A brisk trade is also being done in linen goods, according to merchants. Linen ranked third in the list of popular merchandise sought by U.S. visitors.

One retail merchant voiced the opinion that if an embargo were placed on British imported woolen goods, linen and ceramics, the number of U.S. visitors to Victoria would drop by 50 per cent.

Order Division Of Two City Services

Division into separate departments of street cleaning and garbage collection was ordered by City Council Tuesday afternoon.

The decision was made by the council on the recommendation of Cyril Jones, city engineer, who hinted more money would be asked for street-cleaning in next year's estimates. He felt the city had been rather "niggardly" in making appropriations for this work.

A fine of $10 was levied against Leslie Simmons, 805 May Street, in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to using a siren horn on a car on Aug. 9.

Prepare For Hurricane Invasion

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON—Uncle Sam is ready for the 1949 hurricane season with the most efficient storm warning set-up ever devised.

Navy, air force, civil aeronautics, administration and the U.S. weather bureau have pooled their equipment and talents. They are aiming at preventing a single loss of life this year from tropical storms, and at keeping property damage at a minimum.

An area of sea off the southeastern coast of the U.S. and over the Gulf of Mexico, roughly 1,000 by 1,500 miles, is now under 24-hour-a-day watch. The most modern radar, seismographic and other weather instruments, plus hundreds of airplanes, are being used in this work.

The official hurricane season is June 1 through Nov. 30. The centre of the season, however, during which the most violent storms usually occur, is between Aug. 20 and Sept. 20.

FIRST TIPOFF
First news of a developing tropical storm usually comes from such sources as ships at sea, commercial airlines, CAA and weather bureau stations. These reports locate the storm approximately. Then navy and air force hurricane patrols fly into the teeth of the gale in an effort to locate the "eye." Only when the eye is found can the correct path, speed and direction of the disturbance be plotted.

This method gives about a 24-hour advance notice of where a hurricane will hit the shore. It is this warning which is so vital to saving lives and property.

Main base of the navy's fliers doing this work is Miami. There are also hurricane patrols out of Pensacola, Fla., Corpus Christi, Tex., and other bases. Air force planes also use Miami as well as Bermuda and Puerto Rico.

All information on hurricanes is co-ordinated in Miami. In case a severe storm should wreck

Canadian Industrial Employment Records New High For May
OTTAWA (CP)—The index of industrial employment in Canada this year set a new high for May, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Based on 1926 average as 100, the index of employment rose from 189.1 at May 1 to 194.4 at June 1. The previous high for the time of year was 192.3 at June 1, 1948. During the war years, the peak index for the beginning of June was 181.2 in 1943.

The figures were based on reports from 20,306 of the larger firms in the eight major industrial groups. They reported a 2.8 per cent increase in their personnel. The bureau said this advance was similar in size to that indicated at the corresponding date last summer but was on a rather larger scale than at June 1 in earlier years since 1941.

Accompanying the increase in employment was a gain of 0.8 per cent in the weekly salaries and wages paid by the reporting firms.

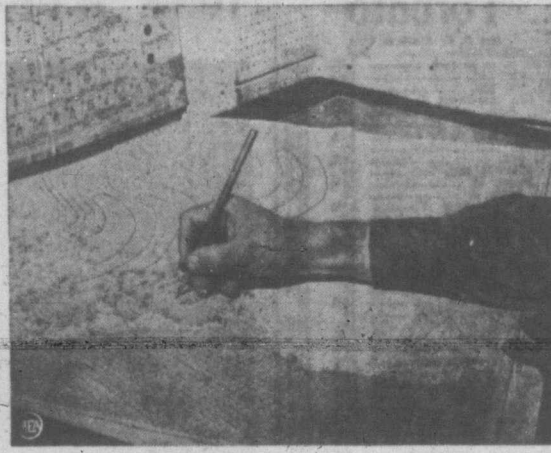

Experts Discuss How To Improve Lot Of Mankind
LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—Experts from 45 countries including Canada met today at United Nations' headquarters to discuss the best practical methods of harnessing science to help mankind.

Their three-week meeting is called the U.N. scientific conference on the conservation and utilization of resources. They will exchange ideas and experiences on the six major fields of resources—minerals, forest, wild life and fish, water, land and fuels and energy.

Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside, deputy minister of mines and resources, heads the 25-man Canadian delegation. He said Tuesday the Canadians attending were eager to learn of developments in other countries and to give the benefits of Canadian experience.

Three officials of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Trail, B.C., have sent a paper to be studied by mineral experts. It is about new processes for the utilization of low-grade ores.

Resort Hotel Collapses
TOKYO (AP)—Forty persons were reported missing today in the collapse of a resort hotel near Kagoshima following a landslide in the wake of a typhoon.

DISTURBANCE IN THE CARIBBEAN: A weatherman plots the course of a hurricane through the Caribbean Sea. First hint of an oncoming storm may come from a ship at sea or a commercial airliner.

Miami's communications, Washington has an emergency sub-centre which would act as the co-ordinating point. It is the responsibility of the weather bureau to give out the official warnings to residents in an area which is threatened.

NEW PROCEDURES
This is the sixth year airplanes have been used for this work. Each year the technique has been improved, resulting in a present stage of better preparedness.

Two new flight procedures were developed last year, and will be used this season. Navy fliers discovered that most hurricanes have a narrow back door, through which pilots can fly into the eye and encounter practically no disturbance.

Air force fliers also developed a system of flying a complete square around the outside of a storm, and, by plotting diagonal lines through their squared route on a map, the eye of the storm is fixed where the lines intersect.

Hospital Workers Apply Again For Bargaining Rights
Application was being made again this afternoon by the Royal Jubilee Hospital Employees' Association for certification as bargaining agent for hospital employees.

The association was refused certification by the Labor Relations Board Tuesday.

The rejection was based on a clause of the association's constitution allowing honorary membership to department heads and higher officials.

This, the board ruled, made the association ineligible as a labor organization within the meaning of the I.C. and A. Act.

C. W. Burr, a pharmacist at the hospital who is president of the association, said that by unanimous vote it had been agreed to eliminate this honorary membership clause, and application was being made again.

The association was formed recently after another group of employees had organized the Victoria Hospital Employees' Federation Union, Local 371, T.L.C.

The union is opposing the association's application for bargaining authority.

More Timber Scaled In June But Total Down For 6 Months
For the first time this year there was more timber scaled in B.C. during one month—June—than in the corresponding month of last year, it was shown today in figures released by C. D. Orchard, deputy minister of lands and forests.

In the month this year 404,854,570 board feet were scaled. In June last year the amount was 349,979,605 board feet.

Total for the first half of the year is down 256,560,962 from the amount of timber scaled up to June 30 in 1948, though.

Total this year was 1,601,986,382 board feet and the total for the same period last year was 1,858,547,344.

$100,000 Fire Guts Sergeant's Mess
VANCOUVER (CP)—An early morning fire today gutted the $100,000 joint-services sergeants' mess at the British Columbia area headquarters of the Canadian Army here.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, raged through the one-story, H-shaped building for nearly an hour before firemen and volunteers brought it under control. One man was slightly hurt.

Annual Soap Box Derby To Be Held On Moss St. Hill

Fifth annual soap box derby will be held this year under the sponsorship of the Knights of Pythias on Moss Street from Fort Street to Sir James Douglas School on Labor Day, Sept. 5, at 10 in the morning.

Meet was formerly held on Ryan Street, but derby officials received the co-operation of the City Council for the use of the Moss Street hill. Last year's 89 competitors was the record number of entries, but committee officials expect an even larger entry list this year.

Entry forms and a set of rules will be published in the Victoria Times at a future date. All entry forms must be sent in to R. H. Abbott, 135 Bushby Street, by Aug. 31.

Inspector Robert Owens of the B.C. Police will again act as official starter. Winner of the speed event will receive a $100 scholarship from a large city automobile firm. Long-distance race winner will be presented with a new bicycle donated by the Youth Action Committee of the Knights of Pythias.

Langford Speedway Trophy and numerous other trophies and cups are up for competition. Derby officials will send this year's winner to Akron, Ohio, next year to compete in the Grand Championship soap box derby in the United States. A starting ramp similar to those used in Seattle and Tacoma will be used this year.

Thinks City Could Use B.C. Road Grant For Fountain Corner

The city may use provincial road grants for arterial highways to correct congested and complicated traffic conditions at the Fountain Intersection, it was indicated at the Legislative Buildings.

Works Minister E. C. Carson said the city had not submitted a plan yet on how it proposes to use a $1,500-a-mile grant the province has agreed to pay for arterial roads running through Victoria.

Arterial roads have been designated and include the difficult Fountain corner where Hillside Avenue, Gorge Road, Government and Douglas Street come together in a tangle.

Mr. Carson thought that if the city wanted to spend some of the $1,500-a-mile maintenance grant on improving the corner permission would be given.

Lack Of Food Said Setback In Plan Of Chinese Reds

VANCOUVER (CP)—Failure of Chinese Communists to fulfill their promises of more food for the masses may be a major setback for the Red forces in their plan to overrun China, D. B. Rogers, editor of the Regina Leader-Post, said Tuesday night.

In an interview on his return from a 20,000-mile trip through the Far East, Mr. Rogers said this year's short rice crop was putting the new regime on the spot.

"The 'agrarian revolt' approach may fall down if they supply less food instead of more," he said. Mr. Rogers spent three weeks in Hongkong and Canton, the Nationalist new capital, following a trip to Australia.

"The Communists are afraid of waging a showdown battle for Hongkong or other hold-out cities on the southeastern mainland," he said. "Their tactic is to force American and British commercial interests to withdraw from important centres by strikes and economic pressure."

The appeal of the "agrarian revolt" line gives them the support of "more of the people than can be estimated" and cities fall "like apples rotted from within."

Mr. Rogers emphasized his remarks were not opinions, but rather observations based on talks with military, economic and political leaders, as well as with newspaper correspondents who know the country well.

WILL PRESERVE HONGKONG

Businessmen in Hongkong feel confidence the Communists will preserve Hongkong as a contact with the world of commerce, he said.

Mr. Rogers said the Nationalist government will not admit, as the United States white paper suggested recently, that their regime is at an end.

"Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is still a popular idol to a large number of the people. And the Nationalists claim they are ready to work shoulder-to-shoulder."

But he said he and other newspapermen felt both sides in the struggle offered strictly biased reports of their achievements.

Two Of Triplets Victims Of Polio

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—Sandra Lea and Shirley Ann Leenhouts, eight-year-old identical triplets, have been hospitalized here as polio victims. The other triplet, Sharon, has no symptoms of the disease.

Doctors said Sharon is probably a fraternal triplet. The slight difference in their make up may have some bearing on it. Doctors said Sharon possibly has some resistance to the disease which the other two lack.

Claim Acknowledged

LONDON (Reuter)—The Treasury announced Tuesday night the Polish government had acknowledged claims to compensation for British property nationalized in Poland, but said amounts had not been fixed.

CAMPBELL RIVER—A coronor's jury here returned a verdict of accidental death in the logging camp accident which claimed the life of John Barber, 23, of New Westminster last week.

Finding that Barber was fatally injured when struck by a sapling which was felled by a tightening skyline the jury recommended that in all logging operations care should be taken to see that no saplings are left standing near a skyline.
